10th ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE
IRISH DIMENSIONS IN BRITISH EDUCATION

SATURDAY 3rd & SUNDAY 4th APRIL 1993

THE IRISH DIASPORA: SIMILARITIES & CONTRASTS IN EXPERIENCES

This conference is aimed at teachers, parents, first and second generation Irish, Irish Community organisations and all those interested in the relationship between culture and education - especially students and teaching staff in secondary, further, community and higher education.

This year there will be four guest speakers:

- 1) DR. CHRISTOPHER MORASH, a Canadian working at St Patrick's College, Maynooth, National University of Ireland, "IMAGINING THE FAMINE: THE GREAT IRISH FAMINE AND THE LITERARY IMAGINATION" - an examination of the ways in which literary representations of the Famine become naturalised as "memory", thereby functioning as a portable form of cultural experience throughout the Irish diaspora.
- 2) DR. MAUREEN O'ROURKE-MURPHY, Dean of Students at Hofstra University, New York, USA, and past President of ACIS (American Conference for Irish Studies), "HOPE FROM THE OCEAN: THE IRISH SERVANT GIRL IN AMERICA" - an overview of the experience of the Irish female domestic servant in the United States circa 1890-1916 that will consider both social history and literature.
- 3) DR. MARY HICKMAN, Director of the Irish Studies Centre at the University of North London, "IRISH 'COMMUNITY' IN BRITAIN: MYTH OR REALITY?" - much of the historical debate about the Irish in Britain has focused on the notion of community. There has been little discussion of what 'community' entails or of the meaning of related concepts such as 'integration' and 'segregation'. This paper will address the issues from a socio-logical perspective and draw on evidence from the 19th and 20th centuries.
- 4) JIM O'HARA, of St. Mary's College History Dept (Strawberry Hill), "THE BRITISH/IRISH RELATIONSHIP IN A EUROPEAN CONTEXT" - an analysis of how certain key aspects of the Irish-British relationships have been influenced and changed by their European context. This will be examined from a broad historical perspective, concluding with the impact of the most recent development since 1949.

CONFERENCE DINNER - SATURDAY 3rd APRIL 1993

7.30 Reception (in Refectory and Upper Coffee Lounge)

8.00 DINNER in Main Hall (comfortable dress)

NEW BOOK INFORMATION

THE IRISH WORLD WIDE (NEW SERIES) Volumes 1-6 Edited by Patrick O'Sullivan

The Irish have emigrated in vast numbers for centuries. More than any other Europeans they have been obliged to transplant, maintain and develop a national culture and identity in novel, indifferent or hostile surroundings.

This series of six books is an account of their various experiences all over the world. It is a comprehensive synthesis, drawing on history, geography, social science and studies of literature, music and the arts to provide a detailed picture of the experience of migration and assimilation over the centuries to the present-day. It is both a vital new work in migration studies and a major contribution to the history and sociology of Ireland and, of course, those many countries where Irish men and women have settled and transformed their new surroundings.

O'Sullivan's diary is a unique phenomenon in the Irish/Gaelic literary tradition. It also gives us a unique view of Irish peasant society in the early 19th century.
2. Sat. a.m. Room 3	MAUREEN O'ROURKE-MURPHY of Hofstra Univ., New York, USA: AN INTRODUCTION TO IRISH-AMERICAN LITERATURE ; a chance to look at writers as diverse as Finley Peter Dunne, Eugene O'Neill and Edwin O'Connor.
3. Sat. a.m. Sun. p.m. Room 2	MARIA LUDDY , Arts Educ. Dept., Univ. of Warwick; THOSE LEFT BEHIND: WOMEN IN IRELAND 1850 - 1918 - An Analysis of the opportunities available to women who did not emigrate.
4. Sat. p.m. Sun. a.m. Room 1.	SEAN HUTTON , of Brit. Asscn. for Irish Studies: TOMAS O CONCHUBHAIR (Thomas O'Connor) - The LIFE, POETRY & POLITICS OF A LONDON TAILOR: The re-discovery of a radical Irish-Language Poet and Scholar who lived and worked in London c1800 - 1850, an associate of the Irish Confederate allies of the Chartists.
5. Sun. p.m. Room 3	JOE SHEERAN , founder member of the Bradford Irish Educ. Group: ASLAAM-ELA-KUM! DIA DUIT! and 'OW DO! (DOING IRISH STUDIES IN BRADFORD) - the Group's beginnings, progress and achievements; problems and difficulties of getting established; links and connections; people and places. Forging a school link with Ireland.
6. Sat. p.m. Room 4	PAUL O'LEARY of Dept. of Welsh History, University College of Wales at Aberystwyth: THE IRISH IN WALES - A TRIUMPH OF INTEGRATION? Irish immigrants in 19th C. Wales were greeted with intense hostility. This workshop/paper pinpoints the factors - social, economic and political - responsible for this hostility and outlines the influences which effected integration by 1922. X
7. Sat. p.m. Sun. a.m. Room 2	LIAM GREENSLADE of the Inst. of Irish Studies at the Univ. of Liverpool; THE BLACKBIRD CALLS IN GRIEF: MORTALITY AND MADNESS AMONGST THE IRISH COMMUNITIES IN BRITAIN ; an exploration of the historical, social and political context surrounding the high rates of mortality and mental hospitalisation amongst Irish migrants in Britain.
8. Sat. a.m. in H/G 3	JAMES O'CONNELL , Prof. of Peace Studies, Univ. of Bradford; PORTRAIT OF A READERSHIP: THE IRISH POST ; a commentary on a survey, dealing with social background, identity, politics, religion and ambivalent relations with the English.
9. Sat. p.m. Library	MARTIN FLYNN , Faculty Manager (Arts & Humanities), Birmingham Central Library; LIBRARY SERVICES FOR THE IRISH COMMUNITY IN BRITAIN ; exploring methods of community consultation and service delivery, together with available resources for the provision of relevant informational, educational, recreational and cultural services for the Irish community through local libraries

10.	JONATHAN BARDON , Faculty Adviser, Belfast Institute of Further Education; SOURCES FOR TEACHING MODERN IRISH HISTORY AT 'A' & 'AS' LEVEL ; a survey of useful books, text books, broadcasts etc., for those involved in teaching present 'A' & 'AS' Level Syllabuses containing Irish History options (1780-1925)
Sat. p.m. Room 3
11.	MERVYN BUSTEED , Geography Dept., Univ. of Manchester; "MADE IN MANCHESTER: THE ORIGIN AND DIFFUSION OF IRISH STEREOTYPES IN 19TH CENTURY BRITAIN" ; while Manchester did not have the largest Irish community in mid 19th century Britain, reactions to the Irish presence in the first industrial city by both local and outside observers were so widely publicised that they set the pattern for long-lived anti-Irish prejudice throughout Britain.
Sat. p.m. Sun. a.m. Room 6
12.	Dr MARY McHUGH , who is GLASGOW DIOCESAN ARCHIVIST , will look at some aspects of THE IRISH IN 19th CENTURY SCOTLAND . The Archdiocese of Glasgow celebrated its 500th Anniversary in 1992. The influx of Irish migrants to the City, especially from the 1840's onwards, completely changed the character of the Catholic community.
Sat. a.m. Sun. p.m. Room 4
13.	SHAUN TRAYNOR , Freelance children's author and poet; THE LOST CITY OF BELFAST: THE PLAY AND THE PLAY SCHEME ; which helped to break down Ulster's religious barriers. Sun. a.m. Room 5
14.	BRENDAN MAC LUA , 'The Irish Post' - Chairman of the weekly community newspaper for the Irish in Britain; 'AS THE IRISH POST SAW IT - THE IRISH COMMUNITY IN BRITAIN 1970 - 1993' ; a discussion on the past 23 eventful years of Irish life in Britain.
Sat. p.m. Room 5
15.	LIAM O CUINNEAGAIN & BERNARDINE FITZPATRICK ; Directors of 'Oideas Gael' the residential Irish Language School; WHAT FUTURE FOR THE IRISH LANGUAGE IN THE LIGHT OF REVITALISATION ATTEMPTS IN THE PAST 20 YEARS? ; is the recent revival of Irish Language learning in Britain and in Ireland a desperate attempt to halt its inevitable path towards extinction by the patronising "Cupla focal brigade" or a genuine commitment to its survival for future generations?
Sat. a.m. Sun. p.m. Room 5
16.	JOHN WOODHURST , Newark and Sherwood College - 'DEVELOPING IRISH STUDIES IN A MARKET TOWN - THE EXPERIENCE OF NEWARK IN NOTTINGHAMSHIRE' ; Irish Studies began here in 1988 after liaison with the local Irish Community. It has grown to embrace language and set dance classes also. Links have been established with County Libraries; the FE College is linked in a student exchange programme with Kilkenny - a special video to celebrate this has been made. This workshop will offer advice and support to those embarking on similar plans elsewhere. (The video will be shown).
Sun. a.m. Room 3
17.	CATHERINE BYRON . Freelance writer and poet - 'OUT OF STEP WITH SAINT PATRICK'S PURGATORY - AND SEAMUS HEANEY!' - Catherine Byron's experiences on the Lough Derg pilgrimage when she went there in pursuit of Seamus Heaney's 'Station Island' poems radically altered her feminist perspective on Irish spirituality, the nationalist tradition - and Heaney's writings.
Sun. a.m. H/G 1.
18.	DR. JAMES MCAULEY , School of Human and Health Sciences, Univ. of Huddersfield - 'SOME REFLECTIONS ON THE NORTHERN PROTESTANT EXPERIENCE OF EMIGRATION' - this is a rarely explored area and it should throw up some interesting similarities as well as contrasting experiences and perceptions.

19. Sun. p.m. Library	PATRICK O'SULLIVAN - General Editor 'The Irish World Wide', currently being published, Leic. Univ. Press; TOWARDS THE INTER-DISCIPLINARY STUDY OF THE IRISH WORLD WIDE ; report on the making of the Leicester UP Series 'The Irish World Wide', plus discussion of workshop participants own research projects.
20. Sun. a.m. Room 4	BERNARD CANAVAN , founder member of the Irish in Britain History Group - IMAGES OF PATRIOTISM ; the Cork painter, Daniel Maclise (1806 - 70), was at the centre of a brilliant London Irish circle of writers and intellectuals and through his illustration he gave visual form to popular Irish nationalism. But he was also important in shaping popular ideas of Britain's imperial past through a series of massive paintings in the House of Commons and widely circulated prints. Using slides we shall look at his historical themes and how he reconciles these 2 traditions.
21. Sat. a.m. Library	JOHN WALSH , Asst. Princ., B.N. Cardozo High School, New York and Officer of the Irish Cultural Society of Garden City; IRISH CULTURE IN NEW YORK: A SUBURBAN SOCIETY ; NYC is not the Irish town it used to be. The Irish have again emigrated. The Irish Cultural Society of Garden City is a typical local educational attempt to maintain Irish identity. How does it function?

IRISH DEMOCRAT 1939 - 1980

(Incorporating Irish Freedom)

244-246, Gray's Inn Road, London, WC1X 8JR

During the war and post-war years the Irish Democrat was the dominant source of Irish news published in Britain. The Connolly Association at that time ran the Immigrants Advice Bureau to help claim lodging allowances for the thousands of Irish workers who came to help rebuild a shattered Britain.

For over fifty years the Connolly Association has issued a monthly newspaper specialising in Irish political analysis, news and reviews. Published in Britain since 1939 the archive now offers the historian an ideal source of information on the campaigns of the Irish community in Britain. Details of their demands, campaigns, allies, achievements and failures are analysed with comments on the period and conditions of the time. During this half-century there has never been a period when the Irish Democrat failed to give a lead on the issues of the day that affected the Irish people. While not condoning political violence the Irish Democrat campaigned for the release of the two previous generations of Irish prisoners in England, as it continues to campaign for the third generation now (years 40, 56, & 70). Never banned in Britain the paper was however banned for six years in Northern Ireland under the Special Powers Act.

It is not commonly known that the first civil rights demonstrations were in fact held in Britain in the early sixties, starting with a CA march from Liverpool to the House of Commons in London to demand civil liberty for the people of Northern Ireland. The Irish Book Centre forerunner of the Four Provinces Bookshop was established in 1966 to supply the increasing demand for Irish literature in Britain. The CA campaigned for a Bill of Rights for Northern Ireland which was debated in both Houses of the Westminster Parliament in 1971.

The Irish Democrat now represents a substantive history of the campaigns of the Irish community in Britain and its effects on the Government of the day and the British Labour movement. What were their demands, who were their allies, what were their achievements, their failures. It is all there in the back issues of the Irish Democrat.

No history of the Irish community in Britain can be complete without reference to this archive of source material.

UACHTARÁN NA hÉIREANN
PRESIDENT OF IRELAND

19 March, 1993

Message from the President of Ireland, Mary Robinson, on the occasion of the 10th Annual National Conference on Irish Dimensions in British Education on 3/4 April, 1993

Is cúis áthais agus bhróid dom an deis seo a bheith agam mo dheaghúil a chur in iúl do lucht riaracháin agus do lucht freastail na Comhdhála seo i Leicester. Tuigim an tábhacht a bhaineann leis an obair seo agus tuigim freisin an obair mhór a bhaineann lena h-eagrú.

I am delighted to send my warmest good wishes to the organisers and participants of the Soar Valley Conference on Irish Dimensions in British Education. The pioneering work of the Leicester Irish Studies Workshop and Soar Valley College over the last ten years has helped to secure a more permanent and important place for Irish Studies across a broad spectrum of educational establishments in Britain.

The Leicester conference has also afforded Irish people from all walks of life and all types of academic and educational backgrounds in Britain the opportunity to analyse, reflect on and make contributions to the better understanding of the Irish emigrant experience in Britain.

On my visits to Britain, as President of Ireland, over the last two years I have sensed a greater appreciation and an increased awareness amongst the emigrant community of the significance of their contribution to their host country. I think the role played by activities such as this conference in that growth is crucial.

Guím gach rath ar an gComhdháil i mbliana agus sna blianta atá le teacht.

Mary Robinson
President of Ireland
