

SECOND SURVEY OF IRISH STUDIES IN GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

© British Association For Irish Studies, 1988

Edited in Microsoft Word™
Set in Times in Aldus Pagemaker™ on Apple Macintosh™

SURVEY OF
IRISH STUDIES
IN GREAT BRITAIN AND NORTHERN IRELAND

(SECOND EDITION)

Introduction	iv
Preface	v
Survey	1
Index	21

A SPECIAL ISSUE OF THE BAIS NEWSLETTER

ISSN 0951-0354

INTRODUCTION

CONTENTS

Introduction	iv
Preface	v
Survey	1
Index	31

David Cairns

May 1982

INTRODUCTION

In 1985, David Cairns prepared the first Survey of Irish Studies in Great Britain and Northern Ireland, which gave information on two hundred or so individuals with serious Irish research interests. This, the second edition, has almost twice as many entries, a reflection of the British Association for Irish Studies in identifying and drawing together its constituency.

The superiority of the second edition, in scope and presentation is an indication of the increasing professionalism of BAIS. The Executive Committee is proud of the splendid job that David Cairns has made of this project. He has put an enormous amount of work into collecting the information, and much thought and experiment into getting the format right.

We are grateful also to Margaret Wood for reading the proofs so thoroughly and to Bernard Canavan for designing such an attractive cover.

Ruth Dudley Edwards,

Chairwoman,

May, 1988

PREFACE

This second Survey has taken nearly eighteen months longer to prepare than I would have liked. In part, the delay has been occasioned by the heightened pace of BAIS activities, for as the Association has extended its scope so the demands on its (voluntary!) Officers for action on urgent issues have increased – to the detriment, sometimes, of matters that could be deferred. Having said that, it is more satisfying to note that the expansion of the number of entries, from 186 in the first Survey, to over 380 in the present exercise, has been accompanied by an increase in the correspondence associated with the exercise and that that, too, lengthened the task.

As with the first Survey, I have received assistance from a number of people and it gives me pleasure to be able to thank them. North Staffordshire Polytechnic and, in particular, Dr John Shelton, made the whole exercise possible by providing the equipment on which the Survey returns were initially edited and the desk-top publishing suite on which the final draft was typeset. The Polytechnic also made available grants through its Research Funds to set the Survey in motion and the Association is pleased to acknowledge this support. At various times, Ms Muriel Fielding, Ms Ann Harper, Mr Lawrence Driscoll and Ms Lynne Evans assisted with entering and editing Survey returns and despatching material. Their help has been much appreciated. More recently, I have been grateful for Margaret Wood's advice as she worked through my first efforts in typesetting; I can only hope that my accuracy will improve to match her meticulous standards. Finally in this record of indebtedness, I would like to join Ruth Dudley Edwards in thanking Bernard Canavan for the speed and professionalism with which he produced the cover illustration.

It is customary for authors and compilers to assume responsibility for all errors and omissions, which I do. In carrying out this Survey I have been very much aware that any mistake on my part could misrepresent someone's passionate interest or achievements and a further reason for the delay in its appearance was the circulation of the draft entries for correction in August 1987 – which produced a further 50 entries in addition to corrections! If, despite the care that Margaret Wood and I have taken, there are errors, please accept my apologies but also please do write to me with the corrections so that I can make amends in our next Survey, which will be expanded to cover teaching activities in primary, secondary and further education.

David Cairns

May, 1988.

National University of Ireland, University College Galway
Dr A. Ahlqvist, Department of Old and Middle Irish and Celtic Philology, University College Galway, Galway, Ireland. 24411 ext 499
Teaching: Old and Middle Irish language and literature; Celtic philology
Research: Syntax and morphology of Irish; editing Irish texts; history of Irish linguistics.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic
Dr J. Ambrose, Department of Geography and Recreation Studies, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Beaconside, Stafford, ST18 OAD.
0785 52331
Teaching: Food production and rural resource management in Ireland; Irish Language Planning.
Research: Irish agriculture and the Common Agricultural Policy; Ireland as a focus for interdisciplinary research; local (regional) geography of Ireland.

The Open University
J. Anderson, Social Sciences, The Open University, Milton Keynes, MK7 6AA.
Teaching: Supervising a thesis on nationalism and socialism in Republican/Nationalist politics in N. Ireland.
Research: Irish Partition, 1886—1920; local newspaper survey; Unionist ideology. Nationalism in general and geographical aspects.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic
Ms E. ApHywel, Department of Humanities, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Beaconside, Stafford, ST18 OAD
0785 52331
Research: The production and dissemination of the concept of 'Woman' in Irish, Anglo-Irish and English discourses in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. (M.Phil./Ph.D. C.N.A.A.).
Other: Feminist criticism; Welsh poetry - writing, criticism.

University of Southampton
Mr A.M. ApSimon, Department of Archaeology, University of Southampton, Highfield, Southampton, SO9 5NH.
0703 559122
Teaching: Courses on prehistoric and early Christian Ireland.
Research: Prehistoric Ireland, particularly the Neolithic and Bronze Ages.

University of Oxford
Mr E. Ardener, St. John's College, Institute of Social Anthropology, 51, Banbury Road, Oxford.
Teaching: Social Anthropology.
Research: Society and language in Goidelic speaking Scotland and Ireland.

University of Ulster
Mr P. Arthur, Department of Philosophy and Politics, University of Ulster, Jordanstown, BT37 0QB.
0231 65151
Teaching: Government and politics of Ireland; democracy in plural societies.
Research: Contemporary Irish politics; Anglo-Irish relations

University of Glasgow
Mr B. Aspinwall, Department of Modern History, University of Glasgow, Glasgow, G12 8QQ.
041 339 8855
Teaching: The Irish in the U.S.A. and outside Europe.
Research: The Irish in Scotland and the U.S.A. in the 19th and 20th centuries.

West Kent College of Further Education, Tonbridge.
J. R. Atfield, 74, Wellbrook Road, Orpington, Kent.
0689 57229
Teaching: 'A' Level English literature — modern Irish poetry. Adult Education - modern poetry courses.
Research: The poetry of Seamus Heaney. Myth in modern Irish poetry.

University of Ulster
Mr A. Aughey, Department of Philosophy and Politics, University of Ulster, Jordanstown, BT37 0QB.
0231 65131
Research: Protestant paramilitarism in Ulster.

University of Oxford, St. Peter's College
Dr G. E. Aylmer, St. Peter's College, Oxford, OX1 2DL.
0865 278862
Teaching: I have lectured on Anglo-Irish history in the 16th and 17th centuries, although not in this University.
Research: 17th century British history (my research is not in Irish history, except insofar as it is inextricably involved in English history of that period).

University of Newcastle upon Tyne
Professor R. N. Bailey, School of English, Percy Building, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE1 7RU.
091 328511
Research: The interrelationship of Irish and Anglo-Saxon art.

University of London
Mr D. E. Baines, Department of Economic History, London School of Economics, Houghton Street, London, WC2A 2AE.
01 405 7686
Research: Historical demography, particularly migration together with the general economic and social history of Ireland.

Stranmillis College
G. H. M. B. Baird, Department of English, Stranmillis College, Belfast, BT9 5DY.
0232 665271
Teaching: 19th century Anglo-Irish novel, 20th century Anglo-Irish novel, poetry and drama (the 3rd year of our Hons. B.Ed. English course has as its syllabus the study of Anglo-Irish literature).
Research: See my 'Patrick Kavanagh - Poetry, Fiction, Cultural Criticism', in H. Kosok (ed.), Studies in Anglo-Irish Literature Vol. V, Bonn: Bouvier Verlag, 1982. I am also working on the fiction of Brian Moore.

Continued: Bairner

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

University of Ulster

Dr A. Bairner, Department of Philosophy and Politics,
University of Ulster, Jordanstown, Newtownabbey, BT37 0QB.
0231 65131

Research: 'State and Civil Society'; political violence.

University of Ulster

Ms S. Baker, Department of Public Administration and Legal Studies, University of Ulster, Jordanstown, Newtownabbey, BT37 0QB.

0231 65131

Teaching: 'Social Economics', issues in N. Ireland and the Republic; 'Economics and Finance of the Public Sector'; government intervention, control, expenditure, public policy in the macro-economy, issues in N. Ireland and the Republic.

Research: The industrialization process in the Republic since 1958; comparative analysis of industrial development bodies
(e.g. IDA, IDB, etc.); ideology and industrialization policy in Fianna Fáil.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic,

Dr R. M. Ball, Department of Geography and Recreation
Studies, Leek Road, Stoke-on-Trent.

0782 412515

Teaching: The N. Ireland economy and the economic and social development of N. Ireland.

Research: Geographical aspects of local economic development; development in N. Ireland in the context of the European Communities.

Manchester Polytechnic

Mrs D Barlow, 7 Marlowe Drive, Didsbury, Manchester,
M20 0DE

Teaching: I am hoping to introduce some Irish Studies courses in the near future in the History Department of the Polytechnic as part of the degree courses.

Research: 20th century Irish history generally, but my particular specialism is Anglo-Irish relations during World War II in which I am currently completing a doctorate at Manchester University.

Other: Associated areas include Irish literature and the impact of the Anglo-Irish influence on Irish culture

University of Oxford, Hertford College

Dr T. C. Barnard, Hertford College, Oxford, OX1 3BW.
0865 24134

Teaching: Periodic lecture courses on aspects of 16th and 17th century Irish history.

Research: 17th century Anglo-Irish history, especially the impact of English policy on Ireland and social, political and religious change in Ireland in that period. Irish architecture, art and artefacts.

University of Warwick

Ms A. Barron, School of Law, University of Warwick,
Coventry, CV4 7AL.
0203 523087

Research: Land use - planning and local government. Women in Ireland, particularly women and the legal system; Irish legal history. The Irish legal profession. Law reform and the Irish Constitution.

University of Kent, Eliot College

Mr A. Beck, Eliot College, University of Kent, Canterbury.
0227 66822

Teaching: Radio drama courses and survey courses in drama.

Research: Recent Irish playwrights performed both in Dublin and the U.K. and Irish radio dramatists.

Other: I also work with the BBC and with RTE in Dublin. I am currently writing a survey of the RTE Radio Drama Department.

St Mary's College, Strawberry Hill

Rev D. Beirne, Principal, St Mary's College, Walpole House,
St Mary's College, Strawberry Hill, Twickenham, TW1 4SX.

Other: General interest in the development of Irish Studies

Leeds Polytechnic

Dr P. Bekker, Centre for Community Education, Leeds
Polytechnic, Calverly Street, Leeds, LS1 3JE.

Teaching: Yeats, O'Casey, Joyce on B. Ed.

Research: Stylistics in Finnegans Wake, Ulysses. James Joyce.

Other: Editor of the James Joyce Broadsheet.

University of London, King's College

Dr A. H. Bittles,
Department of Anatomy and Human Biology, King's College, University of London, WC2R 2LS.

01 836 5454

Research: Demographic and genetic effects of the Irish
Famine. Population structure changes in the Ards Peninsula,
Co. Down, during the period 1841 to the present day.

University of Edinburgh

Mr R. I. Black, Department of Celtic, University of Edinburgh, David Hume Tower, George Square, Edinburgh, EH8 9JX.

031 667 1011

Research: Gaelic language and palaeography

Queen's University, Belfast

Dr R. Blaney, Department of Community Medicine, The Queen's University Institute of Clinical Science, Grosvenor
Square, Belfast, BT12 6BJ.
240503

Research: Contributions to the following journals on medical subjects: Acta Ulta; Acta Medica Gadelica; Irish Ancestor.

Queen's University, Belfast

Mr F.W. Boal, Department of Geography, Queen's University, Belfast.

0232 245133

Teaching: Irish topics occur in a number of courses. There is, however, no specifically 'Irish' course.

Research: Ethnic Relations in N. Ireland, with particular emphasis on Belfast; the N. Ireland conflict in comparative context; ethnic spatial and social segregation.

Continued: Beck

Continued: Booth

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College
Mr R. J. Booth, English Department, Royal Holloway and Bedford College, Egham Hill, Egham, Surrey TW20 OEX.
0784 34455

Teaching: Edmund Spenser.

Research: Edmund Spenser; the Elizabethans and Ireland.

University of Wales, University College, Swansea
Dr D. G. Boyce, Reader, Department of Political Theory and Government, University College, Swansea, SA2 8PP.
0792 294284

Teaching: A course entitled 'Literature, Politics and Revolution in Ireland, 1891-1939'.

Research: Anglo-Irish relations since 1800; Protestant politics in Ireland, 1800-1886; Irish Nationalism; literature and politics in Ireland since 1800.

Other: Member of the Executive Committee, BAIS.

Jordanhill College of Education
Mr A. G. Boyd Robertson, Jordanhill College of Education, Glasgow, G13 1PP.
041 339 6841

Teaching: B. Ed. Gaelic and Celtic Studies courses for trainee teachers.

Other: We are currently exploring the possibility of establishing links and exchanges with teacher training colleges in Limerick.

University of Cambridge, Queen's College
Dr B. Bradshaw, Queen's College, Cambridge, CB3 9ET.
Tel: 0223 65511

Teaching: 16th century Ireland taught as part of a course on Tudor history; specifically, the Tudor Crown's problem.

Research: 16th century Ireland: political, religious, intellectual; I supervise research in the general area of early modern Ireland on behalf of the University.

Other: Member of the Council of the Irish Texts Society.

University of Durham
Dr D. A. Bray, Department of History, University of Durham, 43-46 North Bailey, Durham, DH1 3EX.
091 374 2000,

Research: Early medieval history and literature, Irish mythology – Celtic Church and early Irish hagiography in particular.

North Worcestershire College of Further Education
Mr P. Breen, 57 Bridge Street, Clayhanger, Brownhills, Walsall.

Teaching: Irish Cultural Studies Courses in Continuing Education at Warwick University (currently, 'The Irish Short Story'). Introducing perspectives on Anglo-Irish Literature into 'A' level English.

Research: Attitudes towards history and the English language in modern Anglo-Irish poetry; paper on myth and history in Flann O'Brien's At Swim Two Birds; paper entitled 'Patrick Kavanagh's The Great Hunger, An Irish Pastoral'; paper on 'Versions of the Tale of Deidre in Irish Literature'; paper entitled 'Yeats and the Imaginative Stairway'; paper entitled 'Meaning and Being in the Poetry of Seamus Heaney'.

University of Cambridge, Robinson College
Mr M. Brett, Robinson College, Cambridge.
0223 311431
Research: Welsh-Irish chronicle relations in the 13th century.

Tile Hill Wood School
Miss C. Bridge, History Department, Tile Hill Wood School, Nutbrook Avenue, Tile Hill, Coventry.
0203 466726
Teaching: I have worked on the School's Council History Project (the Modern World Study Unit) and on 'The Irish Question and British Politics and Ireland 1906-22' for 'A' Level Document work.

University of Exeter
Professor J. W. Bridge, Centre For European Legal Studies, University of Exeter, Amory Building, Rennes Drive, Exeter, EX4 4RJ.
0392 77911
Research: Irish law in the context of the European Community and the European Convention on Human Rights.

University of Aberdeen
Mr T. Brotherstone, History Department, Aberdeen University, Aberdeen, AB9 2UB.
Teaching: Scotland and Ireland since ca. 1776 – a comparative study; optional course for honours history students beginning 1987-8.
Research: Irish influences on Scottish labour history.

University of Leeds
Mr R. Brown, School of English, University of Leeds, Leeds, LS2 9JT.
Teaching: Modern Anglo-Irish literature; B.A. supervision of dissertations on Joyce and other Irish authors.
Research: James Joyce and sexuality; present research on the idea of celticism.

Bradford and Ilkley Community College
Dr S. Brown, Department of Adult and General Studies, Bradford and Ilkley Community College, Great Horton Road, Bradford, West Yorks.
0274 753111
Research: Irish-American activity – mainly 19th and 20th centuries – M.A. and Ph.D.

Queen's University Belfast
Professor R. H. Buchanan, Director, Institute of Irish Studies, Queen's University, Belfast, BT7 1NN
Other: The Institute is primarily concerned with postgraduate research in any academic discipline relating to Ireland; it also co-ordinates the teaching programme for the B.A. and M.A. degrees in Irish Studies The Director supervises individual research, initiates research projects and organises seminars, public lectures and conferences. He is also responsible for the Institute's programme of publications.

University of Liverpool

Dr P. J. Buckland, Director, Institute of Irish Studies
University of Liverpool, P.O. Box 147, Liverpool, L69 3BX.
051 709 6022

Teaching: Ireland 1800–1923 (2nd year option); N. Ireland 1921–1939, (3rd. year option occasionally offered).

Research: 19th – 20th century Irish politics, particularly Unionism. See Irish Unionism; Ulster Unionism; The Factory of Grievances: Devolved Government in Northern Ireland; A History of Northern Ireland.

Other: Adviser on Secondary Education to BAIS

University of Manchester

Mr R. A. Burchell, Department of American Studies, Manchester, M13 9PL.

Teaching: I am interested in the Irish in the USA especially the West, and have taught this area within general survey courses.

Howell's School, Denbigh

Ms E. A. Burns, English Department, Howell's School, Denbigh, Clwyd, North Wales.
074 571 3631

Teaching: Irish literature since Yeats; Irish history.

Research: Contemporary Irish poetry, in particular Ulster poetry (especially Seamus Heaney).

Paisley College of Technology

Mr K. J. Bussey, Department of Land Economics, Paisley College of Technology, High Street, Paisley, PA1 2BE.
041 887 1241

Research: Town and Country Planning. Property Market.

Other: Field Week Venues i.e. the Department ran two final year field course weeks to Dublin in 1982 and 1983.

University of Manchester

Mr M. A. Busteed, School of Geography, University of Manchester, Oxford Road, Manchester, M13 9PL.
061 273 3333

Teaching: Third year courses on the Human Geography of Ireland on the B.A./B.Sc. Hons. Geography. Some Irish material in the first and second year courses on political geography.

Research: Electoral geography, particularly of the Irish Republic, social geography of the Irish in Britain.

University of Durham

Mr D. S. Byrne, Department of Sociology and Social Policy, University of Durham, Elvet Riverside, New Elvet, Durham, DH1 3JT.
0385 64466

Teaching: Social policy (including social policy in 19th century Ireland, the U.K. and 20th century N. Ireland. Irish urban policy in 20th century in relation to Dublin. Community development in N. Ireland and Eire.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic,

Dr D.W. Cairns, Department of Humanities, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Beaconside, Stafford, ST18 0AD.
0785 52331

Teaching: 2nd Year history courses, 'England and the Celtic Fringe: 1536–1980'; 'The Making of Modern Ireland'; interdisciplinary, 'Ireland: The Revival and the Rising'; 3rd Year history course 'Ulster: The Long Crisis'; interdisciplinary, 'Contemporary Cultural Politics in Ireland'. Lecture and seminars at Yeats International Summer School.

Research: Ideology, culture and history in late 19th century Ireland; law and ideology, 'The Reading Formation of the late 19th century Irish Reader' (a supervised research project with Dr C.S. Richards); ideology of Ulster Unionism. Author with Dr C.S. Richards of Writing Ireland: Colonialism, Nationalism and Culture (Manchester University Press, 1988). Papers include 'Colonialism and Sexuality' and with Dr C. S. Richards 'Literature Writing Criticism', 'Discourses of Opposition and Resistance in late 19th and early 20th Century Ireland', 'Pissing in the Gale of History...', etc..

Other: Secretary and Survey Secretary BAIS.

University of Newcastle upon Tyne

Mr S. Cameron, Department of Town and Country Planning, University of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Claremont Tower, Newcastle-upon-Tyne.
0632 328511

Teaching: Study visits with students to study Irish town planning system.

Working Men and Women's College

Mr B. Canavan, 44, Tylney Road, London, E7 OLR.

Teaching: Evening classes at a variety of London Adult Education Institutes covering Irish social and economic history since 1800 and in particular Irish migration to Britain.

Research: Agricultural change and migration from Ireland.

Other: Arranged Conference and Workshops in North London Polytechnic in 1981 on 'The Irish In Britain'.

Middlesex Polytechnic

Ms N. Carlin, History Department, Middlesex Polytechnic, London, N17.

Teaching: Examination of the Irish dimension in module 'The English Civil War'.

Research: 17th Century English Radicals and the Irish question.

Other: Published: 'Ireland and Natural Man in 1649'. Seeking publication: 'The Levellers and The Conquest of Ireland in 1649'.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College

Dr R. A. Cave, Department of Drama and Theatre Studies, Royal Holloway and Bedford College, Egham Hill, Egham, Surrey, TW20 0EX.
0784 34455

Teaching: Modern Drama since 1850 (strong Anglo-Irish interest), Yeats.

Research: Many aspects of Anglo-Irish theatre, Yeats, George Moore, O'Casey, Synge, Friel, Beckett.

Other: Productions of Anglo-Irish plays.

Continued: Cairns

Continued: Champion

University of Southampton
Dr T. C. Champion, Department of Archaeology,
University of Southampton, Highfield, Southampton,
SO9 5NH.
0703 559122

Teaching: Course: 'Prehistoric and Early Christian Ireland'.
Research: Prehistoric Ireland, especially late Bronze Age and Iron Age.

University of Oxford, Nuffield College
Ms M. J. Chance, School of Geography, Nuffield College, Oxford, OX1 1NF.
0865 248014

Research: D. Phil. thesis on behavioural factors in segregation of Irish population in Kilburn, London. Use of linguistic cues as ethnic markers, and their manipulation of these cues in interaction with other groups.

Other: Interest in reasons for apparent absence of contemporary work on Irish in Britain, and also tracing patterns of Protestant as well as Catholic Irish immigrants, and settlement patterns. Also trying to disentangle Catholicism and Irishness in group solidarity and community institutions.

University of Oxford, Corpus Christi College
Dr T. M. Charles-Edwards, Corpus Christi College, Oxford,
OX1 4JF.
0865 249 431

Research: Early Irish literature and history.

Polytechnic of North London
Dr A. Clinton, Irish Studies Centre, Polytechnic of North
London, Holloway Road, London, N7 8DB.
01 607 2789

Teaching: I teach courses on Irish (and European) history since 1800 and on the Irish in Britain.

Research: The Irish in Britain, especially current demographic and housing data.

Other: I have established an 'Irish in Britain Research Forum' which has been meeting regularly since January 1987. Publications in the form of working papers are now in preparation. Also involved in setting up a degree course in Irish studies, an Adult Education Course and various forthcoming courses in the field.

University of Bradford
Mr M. Colgan, 21, Nab Wood Drive, Shipley, West Yorkshire, BD18 4HP.
Bradford 586463

Teaching: Special subject: Nationalism and Literature in Ireland.

Research: United Irishmen; relationship between literature and nationalism; peasant secret societies and the prophecies of Pastorini.

Other: I have taught extra-mural classes on Irish writers and on Irish history for several years. At present I am preparing a course on Anglo-Irish literature for a part-time B.A. degree.

Queen's University Belfast
Mrs B. Collins, Institute of Irish Studies, Queen's University, Belfast, BT7 1NN.
0232 245133

Research: Irish manuscript census material. I am also the current holder of an E.S.R.C. award to investigate 'Fertility, Religion and Social Class in Early Twentieth Century Ireland'. A forthcoming publication is The Irish in Nineteenth Century Britain which is to be published by Macmillan for the Economic History Society.

University of Ulster
Dr S. Connolly, Department of History, University of Ulster, Coleraine, BT52 1SA.
0265 4141

Teaching: Survey and specialist courses at undergraduate and postgraduate level on all areas of Irish history since 1660.

Research: The Protestant élite in late 17th and early 18th century Ireland.

University of London, University College
Dr P. Considine, Department of Latin, University College,
Gower Street, London, WC1 6BT.
Teaching: Old Irish taught as part of the University of London classics degree.

University of Southampton
Dr M. J. Counihan, Department of Adult Education, University of Southampton, Southampton, SO9 5NH.
0703 559122

Teaching: 1) The history of Irish science. 2) History, pre-history and environment of the Kerry/Clare area (part-time and short-study courses).

Research: The life and work of the 17th century scientist Bernard O'Connor; the astronomy and cosmology of the 9th century Irish scholars, Eriugena and Dicuil; aspects of Celtic prehistory and early history.

Teesside Polytechnic
Dr C. M. Cowling, Department of Humanities, Teesside Polytechnic, Middlesbrough, Cleveland, TS1 3BA.
Teaching: Credit Area, B.A. Hons. Course: 'Explaining the Politics of N. Ireland'.
Research: Supervising M. Squires, M.Phil. on Unionists in N. Ireland in the 1980's.

The Open University
Dr H. Cowper, The Open University in Scotland, 60, Melville Street, Edinburgh.
Teaching: Author of Units for The Open University on Ireland. A309 History Course, 'Conflict and Stability in Modern Europe' and 'Arts and Society', A403.
Research: General interest in Irish history.

University of Bath
G. Cox, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Bath, Bath, BA2 7AY.
Teaching: 3rd Year interdisciplinary course, 1973-1977 focused on the situation in N. Ireland.
Research: Irish Nationalism

Continued: Collins

Continued: Harvey Cox

Liverpool University

W. H. Cox, Department of Politics, Liverpool University,
Liverpool, L69 3BX.
051 709 6022

Teaching: 'The Politics of the Irish Question'. This is a 3rd Year special subject option course for Honours Politics and History students which I have run since 1980.

Research: Relations between U.K. and Ireland, in particular with regard to the political issues of contemporary Ulster.

University of Durham

Professor R. J. Cramp, Department of Archaeology, 46
Saddler Street, Durham, DH1 3NU.
0385 64466

Teaching: Early medieval archaeology – migrations and settlements; special topic on Anglo-Saxon art and architecture which includes consideration of Irish material.

Research: Early monasticism; early sculpture; 'industrial' settlements.

University of Cambridge, Churchill College

T. J. Cribb, Churchill College, Cambridge, CB3 0DS.
0223 336000

Teaching: There is no specific course on Irish literature offered in the Faculty of English but the principal Irish authors writing in English figure in all periods from the 17th century to the present. It is hoped to appoint a specialist some time in the future.

Research: The drama of W. B. Yeats.

University of London

Professor B. Crick, 8A Bellevue Terrace, Edinburgh, EH7 4DT.

Teaching: Lecture widely in U.S.A. and Europe on British—Irish Relations. Now Professor Emeritus, working on what has been a long-term project: a trilogy, 'The Political Relations of the British Isles' — an historical and contemporary study of the constitutional and political relations of the United Kingdom as a whole including Ireland.

National Institute For Higher Education, Dublin

Mr M. Croghan, School of Communications, National Institute for Higher Education, Dublin 9, Ireland.
0001 37 83 55

Teaching: Sociolinguistics. The sociology and anthropology of language in Ireland: Irish, English and Shelta (the Travellers' language).

Research: Aspects of language and culture in Ireland including how the Irish are portrayed in language. A bibliography of Hiberno-English (interdisciplinary approaches).

Other: Methodologies for content analysis of print and electronic media.

Queen's University, Belfast

Professor J. Cronin, Department of English, Queen's University Belfast, Belfast, BT17 1NN.
0232 245133

Teaching: Undergraduate: 'Anglo-Irish Literature Since 1800' — fictional and drama components; postgraduate: three optional courses in the M.A. (Anglo-Irish studies): '19th Century Anglo-Irish Fiction'; '20th Century Anglo-Irish Fiction'; 'Bilingual Writing in Ireland'.

Research: Anglo-Irish fiction of the 19th and 20th centuries.

Classical literary theory with special reference to the 'Poetics' of Aristotle.

University of Oxford, Corpus Christi College

Dr V. Cunningham, Faculty of English, Corpus Christi College, Oxford.

Teaching: '20th Century Literature: The Novel' — undergraduate courses. From time to time External Studies Courses e.g. 1984–5, 'The Irish Connection' (Anglo-Irish literature).

Research: Modernism, especially in the novel; much interested in Joyce. Special interest in the fiction of Ulster.

Irish Studies Workshop, Soar Valley Community College

Mr N. J. Danaher, Irish Studies Coordinator/ Professional Tutor, Adult and Community Education, Soar Valley College, Gleneagles Avenue, Leicester, LE4 7GY.

0533 669625 / 666377

Teaching: The Workshop offers annual programmes in: Irish Studies, Adult and Community Education; Irish Language for beginners and advanced, plus teachers' courses; Irish Studies Library and Audio-visual Resources Centre; teacher in-service programmes for local education authorities in 'Irish Dimensions'; one day National Conference, annually, on 'Irish Dimensions in British Education'.

Research: History and sociology of the Irish in Britain.

University of Reading

Professor J. C. H. Davies, Department of Sociology,
University of Reading, Whiteknights, P.O. Box 218, Reading,
RG6 2AA.

0734 875123

Research: Sociology of humour — ethnic jokes, etc.

University of Wales, University College Cardiff

Dr S. Davies, Department of Welsh, University College, Cardiff.

0222 44211

Teaching: Course on medieval Welsh prose - Irish influence, parallels in Irish tales etc.

Research: Personal research on narrative techniques in medieval Welsh prose. Comparisons with Irish texts. Hoping to start research on Welsh folk motifs, Irish parallels, etc..

University of London, University College

Professor W. Davies, History Department, University College, London, Gower Street, London WC1 6BT.
01 387 7050

Teaching: Celtic History (general course for archaeologists); Ireland before the Vikings; M.A. course in Celtic Studies projected for 1986 entry.

Research: Early medieval social structures (including Ireland).

SURVEY OF IRISH STUDIES

Bath College of Higher Education

Dr G. P. Davis, Faculty of Home Economics, Science and Humanities, Bath College of Higher Education, Newton Park, Newton St. Loe, Bath, Avon.

0225 3701

Teaching: B.A. Combined Studies (Hons). Modern History.

Year 2: 'Class, Religion and Popular Politics in British Society 1851-1914'; 'The Bristol Region, Industrialization and Reform, 1780-1850'. Year 3: 'Victorian Bath: Patterns and Processes' (History-Geography course); 'British Politics and Society 1918-1964'.

Research: The Irish in Britain in the 19th century — a focus on migration, settlement, and relationships with the host community.

Queen's University Belfast, Institute of Irish Studies

Miss A. Day, Institute of Irish Studies, 48, University Road, Belfast, BT7 1NJ.

245133

Teaching: Occasional Extra Mural Studies Department lecture on 'The Ordnance Survey Memoirs in 19th century Ireland', or 'The Ordnance Survey'.

Research: Projects funded by the Economic and Social Research Council: Computer Based Index to the Irish Ordnance Survey Memoirs: Feasibility Project and Completion Project (HOO 23 2035 and HOO 23 2079). The 19th century Ordnance Survey in Ireland. Life and Society in 1830-1840 as recorded in the Irish Ordnance Survey Memoirs particularly relating to documentation of traditions and antiquities.

Wolverhampton Polytechnic

C. J. Deacey, School of Humanities and Cultural Studies, Faculty of Arts, Design and Education, Castle View, Dudley, DY1 3HR.

Teaching: B.A. Humanities. Relevant modules: 'Period Study 1890-1920' (Yeats-Joyce); 'Contemporary Literature' (always includes at least one Irish writer; all genres of contemporary Irish literature of interest here); project module — 3rd level (students encouraged here to consider detailed research on one author or a group of writers — O'Casey and Synge popular, but others, e.g. Heaney, gaining ground).

Research: Contemporary Irish literature.

Mr B. Denton, 10, Melrose Avenue, Off Bants Lane, Northampton, NN5 5PB.

Other: Freelance historian and writer. I am interested in early modern Irish history with particular reference to English military and political policy between 1630 and 1660. Editor, Parliamentary Studies, The Partizan Press.

University of Ulster.

Department of Social Administration and Policy, University of Ulster, Cromore Road, Coleraine, BT52 1SA

0265 4141

Teaching: Most courses offered by members of the Department contain material on N. Ireland and there is a specific unit on social policy in Ireland. Areas covered are: social security, housing, education health and personal services, community conflict, central and local government, criminology.

Research: Main areas are poverty, low incomes and social security in N. Ireland; education, health services; equal opportunities; housing policy; etc..

University of Strathclyde

Dr T. M. Devine, Department of History, McCance Building, University of Strathclyde, Strathclyde.

041 552 4400

Research: Comparative aspects of Irish and Scottish economic and social history.

University of Keele

F. Doherty, Department of English, University of Keele, Keele, ST5 5BG.

Teaching: 3rd. Year Special Subject: 'Modern Anglo-Irish Writing, Joyce and Beckett'; Joyce, Yeats and Synge.

Research: Beckett; Irish drama.

Other: Member, Interim Committee, BAIS.

The Open University

Dr I. Donnachie, Staff Tutor in History, The Open University in Scotland, 60, Melville Street, Edinburgh, EH3 7HF.

031 226 3851

Teaching: In the context of courses in British and American History (OU A317).

Research: Scotland-Ireland in the 18th and 19th centuries, Irish economic and social history; 18th and 19th century industrial history and archaeology (Co-author Industrial Archaeology in the British Isles (1979)), which has substantial Irish coverage.

Queen's University, Belfast

Dr H. Donnan, Department of Social Anthropology, Queen's University, Belfast, BT7 1NN.

0232 245133

Teaching: I contribute to a multi-disciplinary course leading to the M. Sc. in Irish Studies.

Research: Sectarian social relations in N. Ireland. Advice Centres, counselling and the unemployed.

University of Glasgow

Professor D. Donnison, Department of Town and Regional Planning, University of Glasgow, Glasgow, G 12.

041 339 8855

Teaching: Supervision of graduate students in town planning - dissertations frequently deal with Ulster themes (n.b., currently external examiner Queen's University, Belfast; past external examiner NUU, UCD, TCD, UCC).

Research: Housing policy in Ireland — a study for the the National Economic and Social Council d. I have completed 'An Approach to Social Policy' for the ESC, Dublin.

Queen's University, Belfast

Dr N. Douglas, Department of Geography, Queen's University, Belfast, Belfast, BT7 1NN.

Teaching: 2nd Year Course: 'Political Geography'. Ireland used as an example in topics on nationalism, political integration, boundary studies and community conflict. 3rd Year Course: 'Geography of Public Policy in N. Ireland and the Republic'.

Research: Integration and division — attitudes of political communities in Ireland. Public policies: housing, health, employment, etc. and the effects on political attitudes and behaviour. Local government structures.

Other: Folk music, oral history, sport.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

Bedford College of Higher Education

Dr P. Doyle, School of Humanities, Bedford College of Higher Education, Polhill Avenue, Bedford.
0234 51671

Teaching: B.A. Combined Studies (Hons.), 3rd. Year History Course: 'Religion and the Working Classes in England in the 19th Century'. A large section of this course is devoted to Irish immigration, the extent of religious practice in Ireland, etc..

Research: 'Roman Catholicism in Lancashire in the 19th Century' (Ph.D. thesis). Continuing work on the number and influence of the Irish Catholic clergy on the Roman Catholic Church in England; Catholic social thought in the late 19th and early 20th century.

Humberside College of Higher Education

P. Doyle, School of Humanities, Humberside College of Higher Education, Humberside.
42157

Teaching: BA (Hons) Combined Studies (CNA): 'Irish Potato Famine', 'Literature in Context', Herberg related to Irish immigration into UK and USA. Many dissertations on Irish writers, e.g. 1985 students produced dissertations on O'Casey, Behan and Flann O'Brien.

Research: Past research into Irish community in the U.K. and the politics of the Irish — their relationship to Liberals and Labour and to other Catholic groups.

City of London Polytechnic

N. A. Dromgoole, Dean, The Dean's Office, City of London Polytechnic, 31, Jewry St., London EC3N 2EY.
01 283 1030

Research: Interest in Dance and particularly folk dance.

University of Oxford, Nuffield College

T. Duffy, Nuffield College, New Road, Oxford, OX1 1NF
0865 248014

Research: Currently completing a thesis on class and religion in late 19th century and early 20th century Ulster; specifically, a comparative study of Belfast and Derry with special reference to society and evangelicalism. Two papers forthcoming on the teaching of local history; papers published on 19th century community conflict, currently contributor to RIA 'Irish Historic Towns Atlas' project; interested in publishing research on community perceptions of religious and ethnic differences.

Abingdon College of Further Education

Dr J. Dunleavy, Business Studies Department, Abingdon College of Further Education, Abingdon, Oxfordshire, OX14 1NN.

Abingdon 21585

Research: Irish impact on British politics, circa 1880-1930; Michael Davitt; Irish clerics in Victorian Britain especially alumni of All Hallows, Dublin.

Sunderland Polytechnic

Dr P. J. Durrans, Department of Geography and History, Sunderland Polytechnic, Sunderland, 76191

Teaching: Ireland in the context of modern British Imperialism within undergraduate and postgraduate courses.

University of Birmingham

Dr K. Edwards, Department of Geography, University of Birmingham, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.
021 472 1301

Research: Conducting research on prehistoric environments and agriculture in Ireland.

University College of North Wales

Dr N. Edwards, Department of History (Archaeology), University College of North Wales, Bangor, Gwynedd, LL57 2DG
0248 351151

Teaching: Early Christian Ireland and archaeology.

Research: My Ph.D. (1982) was on 'Irish Medieval Crosses in Offaly, Kilkenny and Tipperary'. Still working on aspects of sculpture in Ireland circa 400-1200 A.D. Currently writing text book on The Archaeology of Ireland circa 400-1200 A.D.. Interested in all aspects of archaeology, literature and history of the same period.

University of Edinburgh

O. Dudley Edwards, History Department, University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh.

Teaching: Ireland is an important concomitant in our Commonwealth History Course; specialist courses in Irish history have been introduced in the current session

Research: Text on Eamon De Valera; religion and nationalism; comparative studies of Ireland, Scotland and Wales; Oscar Wilde and figures from the Literary Revival considered as historical objects.

Ruth Dudley Edwards, 40, Pope's Lane, Ealing, London,
W5 4NU.

01 579 1041

Other: Chairwoman, BAIS.

University of Liverpool

Professor Philip Edwards, Department of English Language and Literature, University of Liverpool, P.O. Box 147, Liverpool, L69 3BX.

051 709 6022

Teaching: 1.) Anglo-Irish Literature, 1800 - present (Special subject). 2.) Annual lectures on W.B. Yeats in main courses.

Research: Yeats, George Moore, Irish Drama.

York University, North York, Ontario

Professor M. Elliot, Master's Office, Winters College, York University, North York, Ontario, M3J 1P3, Canada.

Research: Yeats; short story; modern Irish poetry; modern drama; 19th century novel.

Continued: Marianne Elliott

University of Liverpool

Dr Marianne Elliott, Research Fellow, Department of History, University of Liverpool, P.O.Box 147, Liverpool, L69 3BX.
051 709 6022

Teaching: Ireland 1800-1923 (2nd Year option). French and European History.

Research: 18th century Ireland; religious identity in Ireland; early Irish republicanism; Ireland and France. Publications include: Partners in Revolution: The United Irishmen and France; Watchmen in Sion: The Protestant Idea of Liberty, 'The Despard Conspiracy Reconsidered'; 'The Origins and Transformation of Early Irish Republicanism'; 'Irish Republicanism in England: the first phase 1797-8'.

Other: Co-founder, Conference of Irish Historians in Britain, co-organizer of its biannual Conference; contributor to British-Irish Association Conferences; founder Member, BAIS, Convener BAIS Higher Education Sub-Committee.

King Alfred's College, Winchester

M. Etherton, Department of Drama, King Alfred's College, Winchester, Hampshire., SO22 4NR.
0962 68725

Teaching: Course in 'New Irish Drama' in B.A. Drama; 'Theatre and Television' (this course is a one-term option in Year 2; and will be offered from 1986).

Research: Contemporary Irish Dramatists (Macmillan, 1986).

University of Oxford, Jesus College

Professor D. Ellis Evans, Jesus Professor of Celtic, Jesus College, Oxford, OX1 3DW.

Tel: Oxford 279739 / 279700 / 270 745

Teaching: The comparative philology of the Celtic languages and Irish grammar. Old and Middle Irish texts; Early and Medieval Welsh texts; language planning.

Research: Old Celtic; the emergence of the neo-Celtic Languages; onomastics; language contacts; the early literature of Wales and Ireland; modern Welsh dialectology; language and identity.

University of Wales, University College Aberystwyth

Professor Emrys Evans, Department of Irish, School of Celtic Studies, University College of Wales, Aberystwyth.
0970 3177

Teaching: Irish Language and Literature. Degree Programme for Joint Honours B.A. (a) Early Irish (Old and Middle Irish) (b) Classical Irish (c) Modern Irish (d) Scottish Gaelic (e) Celtic Philology.

Research: Irish linguistics - particularly Modern Irish dialectology.

Other: Peripheral interest in Celtic mythology and philology.

University of Ulster

S. Farren, Faculty of Education, University of Ulster, Cromore Road, Coleraine, BT52 1SA.
0265 4141

Teaching: Course 'Education in Ireland 1800-1960', a module in the Educational Studies component of the B. Phil. programme and a third year unit in the B.A. Primary Education course.

Research: Culture and Education in Ireland in the 19th and 20th centuries

University of Aberdeen

P. Farrington, Language Laboratory, Kings College, University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen, AB9 2UB.

Research: The Poetry of W.B. Yeats

University of Birmingham

Dr A. Faulkes, Department of English, University of Birmingham, Arts Division, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.
021 472 1301

Teaching: I teach a supplementary course on Old Irish language and literature.

University of Warwick

S. Fielding, Centre for the Study of Social History, University of Warwick, Coventry, CV4 7AL.

0203 24011

Research: Doctoral thesis: 'Irish Catholics in Manchester and Salford 1890-1939'.

St. Mary's College, Belfast

Mr P. Finn, Department of Geography, St. Mary's College, Trench House, Stewartstown Road, Belfast.

Research: Evolution of the Irish Landscape.

Crewe + Alsager College of Higher Education

Dr M. E. FitzGerald, Department of English, Crewe + Alsager College of Higher Education, Alsager, Cheshire, ST7 2HL

Teaching: Courses on Yeats, Joyce (full year), Modern Irish Literature, Gothic Fiction.

Research: Irish political rhetoric; 18th century Irish poetry; 19th century Gothic fiction; feminist theory.

Other: Founding Member, BAIS; Member Executive Committee, BAIS.

Inner London Education Authority / Waltham Forest Project

P. Fitzpatrick, Multicultural Development Service, Markhouse Road, Walthamstow, London E17.

01 520 4878

Other: Together with several colleagues I aim to set up a group to look at the possibility of Irish Studies on the school curriculum in the area. We are also planning to obtain and develop materials and set up workshops for teachers.

University of Bristol

Dr K. Flanagan, Department of Sociology, University of Bristol, Bristol, BS8 1UQ.

Teaching: Extra-mural courses of 10 lectures in Cheltenham, Bristol and Bath. 2nd. Year Course on 'Irish Society'.

Research: 'Planning a book from D.Phil Thesis (Sussex 1978) on the social structure of later 19th century Irish society.

Manchester Education Committee

Mr J. Flynn, Education Development Service, Greenheys Centre, Upper Lloyd Street, Manchester, M14 4HZ.

Research: Development and testing of primary stage Irish Studies.

Continued: Farrington

Continued: Foster

University of London, Birkbeck College
Dr R. Foster, History Department, Birkbeck College, Malet
Street, London, WC1E 7HX.
01 580 6622

Teaching: 'The Culture of Irish Nationalism circa 1840—
1922' Special subject taught to B.A. undergraduates. 'Ireland and England circa 1840—1939' M.A. option taught to Commonwealth and Victorian Studies M.A.'s.

Research: General Irish history in modern period, especially cultural and political history in late 19th early 20th century.

Other: Irish literature (Yeats).

University of Durham
Dr R. Frame, University of Durham, History Department, 43, North Bailey, Durham, DH1 3EX.
0385 64466

Teaching: 2nd and 3rd Year Option 'Scotland, Wales and Ireland, 1100-1330'. 3rd Year Special Subject 'England and Ireland in the 14th Century'.

Research: The politics and society of the Lordship of Ireland, and its relation with England, 1200-1460; more especially 1216-1360.

Other: Irish history generally in the central and late middle ages. The political structures of the Norman and Plantagenet period, and Ireland's place in them.

University of Newcastle-upon-Tyne
P. J. Frankis, School of English, Percy Building, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE1 7RU.
Tel: 328511

Research: Poetry in the English language in Ireland in the 13th and 14th centuries, particularly the literary relationship between Ireland and the West Midlands in that period.

St. Mary's College, Strawberry Hill
J. Fulton, Department of Sociology, St. Mary's College,
Strawberry Hill, Twickenham, TW1 4SX.
01 892 0051

Teaching: General sociology and sociology of religion — unit on religion and conflict in Ireland. At present submitting 2nd and 3rd Year B.A./B.Sc. options on 'Sociology of Ireland' for validation by Surrey University.

Research: Completed Ph.D. 'The historical and social ground of religion and conflict in modern Ireland: a critical, holistic approach' (LSE). A book is now in progress dealing with the same topic.

Conradh na Gaeilge
See O Dónalláin

University of Bradford
Dr T. Gallagher, School of Peace Studies, University of Bradford, Bradford, West Yorks, BD7 1DP.

Teaching: 'The Northern Ireland Conflict' taught as undergraduate option (B.A. Hons) and as part of the taught M.A. in Peace Studies.

Research: How the N. Ireland conflict and the proximity of Ireland has affected political and social relations in a) the West of Scotland; b) Britain generally. The rôle of the Republic of Ireland in the N. Ireland conflict.

Continued: Gibbons

Hammersmith and North Kensington Adult Education Institute
Mr I. Gibbons, Addison Centre, Addison Gardens, London W14.
01 603 6102

Teaching: 12 and 24 weeks evening classes in: 'Introduction to Irish History'; 'Modern Ireland'; 'The Irish in Britain'.

Research: Social history of the Irish in Hammersmith (as part of M.Phil Degree at Birkbeck College, London: 'Shepherds
Bush — The Social History of an Inner London Suburb 1850
— 1980').

Other: Our Institute runs other Irish Studies Courses including: 'N. Ireland'; 'Contemporary Issues in Irish Society'; 'The Media and N. Ireland'.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College
A. W. Gibson, Royal Holloway and Bedford New College, Egham Hill, Egham, Surrey, TW20 OEX.
0784 34455

Teaching: Joyce, Beckett.

Research: Joyce, Beckett.

Polytechnic of North London
G. S. Gilbert, Department of Law, Polytechnic of North
London, Ladbroke House, Highbury Grove, London N5 2AD
01 607 2789 extn 5131

Research: Anglo-Irish extradition and criminal jurisdiction.

University of Edinburgh
Professor W. Gillies, Department of Celtic, David Hume
Tower, University of Edinburgh, George Square, Edinburgh,
EH8 9JX.
031 667 1011

Teaching: (1) Celtic: includes Modern Irish language, texts, history and background of language. (2) Celtic Hons. (Modern): includes Modern and Classical Irish language, literature, etc. (3) Celtic Hons. (Medieval): includes Old and Middle Irish language, literature, etc. (4) M.Litt. (taught postgraduate): can be taken in areas covered by (2) and (3).

University of Glasgow
University of Glasgow, Department of Medieval History,
Glasgow, G12 8QQ
041 339 8855 extn 6338

Teaching: Invasion, settlement and conversion in the North and West British Isles, 450-1050. An interdisciplinary course taught and studied in the Departments of Medieval History and Archaeology: a comparative approach to the politics, institutions, economy, church and culture of Ireland, Scotland and Northumbria from the Romans to the Normans, together with the Viking impact on each in all aspects.

Research: Irish kingship; Irish law; Irish 'churchmanship' and its influence in Britain and on the continent.

University of Cambridge
Dr R. E. Glasscock, Department of Geography, University of Cambridge, Downing Place, Cambridge, CB2 3EN.
0223 64416

Teaching: No separate course given but frequent reference to Ireland made in courses on the Historical Geography of Britain.

Research: Anglo-Norman settlement in Ireland. The medieval economy (Chapter forthcoming in the New History of Ireland, Vol. II). Historical geography of Ireland.

Oxford Polytechnic

J. Glasson, Head of Department of Town Planning,
Oxford Polytechnic, Headington, Oxford.

Research: (with C. Minay and D. O Briain) rural development problems in the Gaeltacht – relationship between economic development and language maintenance. Report produced for EEC in 1982.

University of Kent at Canterbury, Darwin College

Dr S. Glynn, Darwin College, The University, Canterbury, Kent, CT2 7NY.

0227 66822

Research: Ireland: history, emigration, economy.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College

W. Gould, Royal Holloway and Bedford College, Egham Hill,
Egham, Surrey, TW20 0EX.

0784 34455

Teaching: Irish authors in 19th and 20th century literature courses.

Research: Collected Letters of W.B. Yeats Vol II (co-ed.).
Collected Works of W.B. Yeats (editing two volumes for Macmillan).

University of Wales, University College of North Wales

V. Graham, Room 14, Anglican Chaplaincy, Princes Road,
Bangor, Gwynedd, LL57 2BD.

Research: Various responses to the question of reconciliation in N. Ireland. Church response, Roman Catholic, Church of Ireland, Methodist, Presbyterian. 'Peace' groups. Ian Paisley and Free Presbyterianism. Corymeela – Theology in Action. The individual response – personal contribution – is it effective?

University of London, University College

Dr J. Graham-Campbell, Department of History (Medieval Archaeology) University College, Gower Street, London, WC1E 6BT.

01 387 7050

Teaching: Celtic archaeology, A.D. 400–1125 on both the B.A. and M.A. courses.

Research: Early medieval insular metalwork; Viking settlement in Britain and Ireland.

St. Mary's and St. Joseph's College of Education, Belfast

Mr J. Grant, Department of History, St. Mary's and St. Joseph's College of Education, 191 Falls Road, Belfast, BT12 6FE.

Tel: Belfast 227678

Teaching: a) Irish history 1845–1966: I teach the 20th century end of this course for final general and third year honours B.Ed. students. b) The Irish Poor Law from 1838, final honours B.Ed. special subject.

Research: About to complete Ph.D. thesis entitled 'The Great Famine in the Province of Ulster, 1845–49', at Queen's University, Belfast. Substantial research involvement in Irish Poor Law Studies, particularly in its first decades.

University of Newcastle upon Tyne

Dr K. Greene, Department of Archaeology, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne.

Dr K. Greene, Department of Archaeology, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne.

328511 ext 3842

Teaching: Late Celtic and Early Saxon Britain, final year option covering the archaeology of Britain from ca. AD 400–700. Module on Irish/Northumbrian art and metal-work in a colleague's course on Data Analysis (a series of specific archaeological problems).

Research: Roman and early medieval economy, Early medieval art (Celtic and Germanic).

University of Durham

Dr C. J. M. R. Gullick, Department of Anthropology, University of Durham, 43, Old Elvet, Durham, DH1 3HN.

0385 64466

Research: 1) Anthropology of small islands, including the influence of the Irish on Malta, the Isle of Man and St. Vincent; 2) Carnivals and related phenomena including St. Patrick's Day celebrations in Kansas City.

Sunderland Polytechnic

Dr D. R. Hall, Department of Geography and History, Forster
Building, Chester Road, Sunderland, SR1 3SD.

0783 76191

Teaching: Ireland is dealt with as part of a Year 2 geography undergraduate honours course: 'Regional Development Problems of Western Europe'.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College

Mr R.G. Hampson, Department of English, Royal Holloway and Bedford College Egham Hill, Egham, Surrey TW20 0EX.

0784 34455

Research: Joyce.

Manchester Education Committee

L. Hankin, Manchester Education Development Service,
Greenheys Centre, Upper Lloyd Street, Moss Side, Manchester, M14 4HZ.

Teaching: Irish Cultural Studies

Research: The Irish dimension in the education of Manchester children.

University of Oxford, Somerville College

Dr. N. Hardiman, Somerville College, Oxford, OX2 6HD.

0865 57595

Teaching: One topic in political sociology course on 'N. Ireland: the social bases of identity and conflict'; various topics in Political Institutions (comparative politics) course, especially the party system and executive/legislature relations.

Research: Economic policy and the politics of industrial relations in the Republic of Ireland; the party system and party politics. Research on the period of centralized pay bargaining 1970–80 shortly to be published.

University of London, Birkbeck College

Professor B. Hardy, Department of English, Birkbeck College,
Malet Street, London, WC1E 7HX.

01 580 6622

Teaching: Joyce, Yeats, Beckett.

Research: Joyce, Yeats, Beckett.

Continued: Greene

Continued:

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

University of York

S. J. Harlow, Department of Language, University of York, York, YO1 5DD.

Research: Modern Irish language (my primary research interest is Modern Welsh).

University of London, University College

J. Harris, Department of Phonetics, University College, Gower Street, London, WC1E 6BT.

01 387 7050

Research: English language in Ireland.

University of London, University College

Dr R. Harris, Department of Anthropology, University College, Gower Street, London, WC1E 6BT.

Teaching: Material relating to N. Ireland is included in the course 'The Study of Western Industrial Societies' which is primarily concerned with the British Isles as a field of research for social anthropology.

Research: N. Ireland.

University of Sheffield

Dr B. T. Harrison, Division of Education, University of Sheffield, Arts Tower, Floor 12, Sheffield, S10 2TN.

Teaching: 1) Lecture to Anglo-Irish Association on Seamus Heaney, March 1985. 2) VIth Form Lectures to local schools on the Ulster poets especially Heaney.

Research: Irish poetry especially Yeats, Heaney 'Ulster Poets'.

University of Glasgow

Dr I. Hazlett, Department of Theology and Church History, University of Glasgow, Glasgow.

041 339 8855

Teaching: Honours Degree Option for Bachelor of Divinity in Ecclesiastical History: 'Origins and forms of Celtic Christianity 450—800 A.D'.

Research: 1) Irish Presbyterianism and the Scottish Church from 1600. 2) 'Enlightenment Philosophy and Theology and the North of Ireland', e.g. Francis Hutcheson.

The Open University

C. Hedges, Faculty of Social Sciences, The Open University, Walton Hall, Milton Keynes, MK7 6AA.

0908 653572

Research: Carrying out Ph.D. research into nationalism and socialism with particular reference to Ireland from 1960 to the present supervised by James Anderson, Department of geography, Open University.

University of Durham

A. J. Heesom, Department of History, University of Durham, 43, North Bailey, Durham.

0385 64466

Teaching: 'Ireland Under the Union', 2nd and 3rd Year Hons. class, (20 students per annum). Irish dimension on other courses, e.g. 19th century British history; special subject on British elections in mid 19th century.

Research: County Down, circa 1820—1850, with special reference to the electoral activities of the 3rd Marquess of Londonderry.

St Mary's College of Education, Belfast

F. G. Hennessy, 191, Falls Road, Belfast, BT12 6FE

Research: The effect of the European Community on Ireland, North and South.

University of Ulster

Dr A. C. Hepburn, Department of History, University of Ulster, Cromore Road, Coleraine, Co. Londonderry, BT52 1SA.

0265 4141

Teaching: Courses dealing with: 'Irish History 1845 — present', 'Computer methods in History' (on degree programmes at Coleraine). There are also Irish history elements on the B.A. in Irish History, Politics and Society and the Diploma / M.A. in Peace Studies which are offered on the Magee Campus in Derry.

Research: Social and political history of Catholic Belfast; career of Joseph Devlin M.P.

National University of Ireland, University College, Cork

Dr M. Herbert, Department of Early and Medieval Irish, University College, Cork, Ireland.

021 276871

Teaching: Celtic civilization. Special subjects: 'Early Irish Literature'; 'The Organization of Learning in Early Ireland'; 'Early Medieval Irish Language'; 'Texts and Language'.

Research: Literary texts as historical sources — case studies in Irish hagiography; early Irish Church history, special emphasis on monastic organization; the edition of Middle-Irish texts — principles and practice; literary developments in the 11th and 12th centuries.

Other: Interdisciplinary study of pre-Norman Ireland.

University of Ulster

J. Hickey, Department of Sociology and Social Anthropology, University of Ulster, Cromore Road, Coleraine, BT52 1SA.

0265 4141

Research: Religion and the N. Ireland problem; comparative study of Irish immigrants to selected urban areas in Britain and the U.S.A.

University of London, Institute of Education

Ms M. J. Hickman, Irish Studies Centre, North London Polytechnic, Holloway Road, London, N7 8DB

Teaching: Co-Tutor 'British Racism: The Black and Irish Experience'.

Research: 'The Problematic Irish' (M.Sc. Thesis, South Bank Polytechnic, 1980) — an analysis of the presentation of Britain's relationship to Ireland in school texts. Ph.D. thesis, a study of the location and identity of the Irish in Britain with special reference to the rôle of Catholic Education.

Other: Secretary of the 'Irish in Britain History Centre'. Speaker at the Second National Conference of the Centre (Leicester, February, 1985) on 'Racism Education and Irish Identity'.

Continued: Higham

University of Exeter

Dr R. A. Higham, Department of History and Archaeology
University of Exeter, Queen's Building, Exeter, EX4 4QH.
0392 264349

Teaching: Medieval archaeology; the medieval castle.

Research: Some early Irish castles are relevant in my current area of research.

National University of Ireland, St. Patrick's College Maynooth
Dr J. R. Hill, Department of History, St. Patrick's College, Maynooth, Co. Kildare, Ireland.

Teaching: British approaches to Home Rule: Ireland and Canada, circa 1820—1886; the Dublin Protestant Community, 1750—1850.

Research: 18th and 19th century political culture; the History of Dublin.

University of Bradford

R. Hindley, Geography Section, European Studies, The University, Bradford, W. Yorkshire, BD7 1DP.

Teaching: Historical geography and political geography. I specialize in 'Celtic Lands'.

Research: Linguistic geography - especially the Gaeltacht.

Other: Scottish Gaelic, Manx, Welsh and Breton studies: historical geography especially languages.

University of Wales, University College, Swansea

Miss K. E. D. Hirst, Department of English, University College Swansea, Singleton Park, Swansea, SA2 8PP.
0792 205 6784303.

Teaching: Option course: 'Modern writers in Wales and Ireland.

Research: Irish poets after Yeats and prose writing. Projected text: 'Recent Writing in Ireland - The Poetic'. Chapters on McGreevy, Austin Clarke and Thomas Kinsella, Kavanagh and Montague, Aidan Higgins and Francis Stuart.

Other: William Blake; modern Welsh writers; Womens Studies. Recently contributed to Women, Literature, Criticism, Bucknell University Press.

University of Exeter

Professor C. Holdsworth, Head of Department of History, and Archaeology, University of Exeter, Queen's Building, Exeter, EX4 4QH.
0392 264295

Teaching: British History 400 A.D.—1300 A.D. (includes some Irish history); monasticism in the West.

Research: Irish monastic history, particularly the Cistercians in Ireland.

University of Hull

Dr K. T. Hoppen, Department of History, University of Hull, Hull, HU6 7RX.
46311

Teaching: Second Year Option: 'Ireland and the Irish Question 1800—1923'.

Research: 19th century Irish politics, especially elections. See my Elections, Politics, and Society in Ireland 1832—1885, (Clarendon Press, 1984).

Other: At present supervise a research student working on late 19th early 20th century Irish political history.

University of Surrey

Dr M. P. Hornsby-Smith, Sociology Department, University of Surrey, Guildford, Surrey, GU2 5XH.
0483 571281

Research: Mainly in the context of study of Roman Catholicism in England. 'Irish Catholics in England: Some Sociological Perspectives', in Irish Catholics in England: A Congress Report and Social Studies, April 1979; 'What should be the Orientation of the Irish Migrant?' in Irish View August 1978; 'The Immigrant Background of Roman Catholics in England and Wales: A Research Note' in New Community, 13, (1) Spring-Summer 1986, pp. 79—85; 'The Assimilation of Irish Catholics', Chapter 6 in Roman Catholics in England, (Cambridge University Press, 1987), pp. 116—32.

Coventry (Lanchester) Polytechnic

Ms C. Hoskyns, Department of Politics and History,
Priory Street, Coventry, CV1 5FB.
0203 24166 extn. 680

Research: Irish anti-discrimination policy and involvement in the European Community's policies on women's rights at work.

Other: Links with the Irish Womens' Movement.

University of Sussex

Dr A. Howkins, School of Cultural and Community
Studies, University of Sussex, Falmer, Brighton.
0273 503273

Teaching: Irish History 1780 - present. (1 term undergraduate course open to all history majors: take up about 10 per annum).

Research: Supervision of 2 Ph.D's on Irish history — one (by Keith Harding) completed in 1984.

Other: My own research on Ireland has been restricted to interest in the Irish farm labourer circa 1800—1900. I have not published anything in this area.

E. Hughes,

49, Evington Road, Leicester, LE2 1QG.
0533 546991

Teaching: I have taught courses on 20th century Irish writing and supervised 3rd year dissertation work on the Irish novel and drama.

Research: 20th century Irish writing, particularly autobiography; cultural theory. Publications on Joyce, Kavanagh, Irish criticism and cultural historiography.

Other: Executive Committee, BAIS. Editor, BAIS Newsletter.

Bridlington School

Seán Hutton, 16, Cambridge Street, Bridlington, North
Humberside, YO16 4JZ.
0262 672593

Teaching: Ireland in the 16th century ('A' level).

Research: At the moment I am researching in the following partly related areas: nationalism and socialism in Ireland in the early 20th century; the politics and writings of Séamus O Grianna ('Máire'); Irish historiography — 19th and 20th century history.

Other: Member of collective contributor to Lipman Seminar on Ireland; involved with Irish input to History Workshop and a founder member of Irish History Workshop; member of Irish Labour History Society and Irish Texts Society. I review books on — and related to — 19th and 20th century history and contemporary prose and poetry written in Irish (I review in Irish and English).

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

University of Kent, Darwin College
Dr C. L. Innes, Lecturer in English, Darwin College, University of Kent, Canterbury.
0227 66822

Teaching: Modern Irish literature, and in the past have taught courses on Joyce and Yeats.

Research: The Irish Literary Renaissance (in relation to cultural nationalism in Black writing). J. M. Synge. Women writers and women portrayed in Irish literature.

Other: Postgraduate students supervised: Ferguson and 19th century Irish poetry. Francis Stuart.

Bretton Hall College of Higher Education
Mrs A. M. Ireland, Department of Expressive Arts,
Bretton Hall College of Higher Education, West Bretton, Wakefield, W. Yorkshire.
092 485 261.

Teaching: On the B.A. English with Inter-Arts, Poetry (particularly Yeats), Contemporary poetry — Heaney, Montague, Muldoon, Longley, Mahon, etc..

Research: Background material for an original screenplay 'The Fanatic Heart' covering 70 years of Irish History (1860's to 1930's) centring upon Maud Gonne MacBride (now completed).

Other: James Stephens, James McKenna, Austin Clarke, the Irish Theatre — particularly Dion Boucicault and the work of Sarah Purser.

Mrs E. J. Ives, 24 Pine Road, Stalybridge, Cheshire,
SK15 1UR

Research: The Irish in Liverpool — ethnic identification and social participation (including informal and formal social networks). The Irish in the labour market, political vote and views, Irish language and the use of mass media.

University of Birmingham
Dr R. Jackson, Department of English, University of Birmingham, Arts Division, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham,
B15 2TT.
021 472 1301

Research: I am conducting joint research with Dr I. Small on Oscar Wilde.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic
Dr B. Jacobs, Department of International Relations and Politics, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, College Road,
Stoke-on-Trent, ST4 2DE.
Research: Interest in urban policy and industrial development.

St. Mary's College, Twickenham
Ms S. Jacobs, Department of Sociology, St. Mary's College, Strawberry Hill, Twickenham, Middlesex, TW1
4SX.

Teaching: Sociology of Race and Racism — component in race, ethnicity and the state in Northern Ireland.

Research: I co-ordinate B.A. dissertation research in the Department on topics concerning Ireland and N. Ireland.

University of Stirling
Professor A. N. Jeffares, Academic Advisory Services Ltd.,
Craighead Cottage, Fife Ness, Crail, Fife, KY10 3XN
0333 50898

Teaching: Anglo Irish literature, W. B. Yeats.

Research: Publications include: A History of Anglo-Irish Literature (3rd edition in preparation), A New Commentary on the Poems of Yeats and The Poems of Yeats: A New Selection are in preparation. Work is in progress on a new life of Yeats, a book of essays and various articles. Two volumes of poems, Brought Up in Dublin and Brought Up to Leave published by Colin Smythe Ltd. in 1987.

University of Ulster
Mr. K. Jeffrey, Department of History, University of Ulster at Jordanstown, Shore Road, Newtownabbey,
Co Antrim, BT37 0QB.

Research: I have taught 2nd and 3rd year courses as follows: 'Britain and Ireland 1850 to the Present', and 'The Military in Politics', including substantial coverage of military affairs relating to Ireland in the 20th century.

Research: Imperial defence, including the Anglo-Irish war 1919–21; recruitment to the British Army in Ireland and British intelligence and security forces generally in Ireland in the 20th century.

University of Wales, University College Swansea
Mr R. Jenkins, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University College, Swansea, SA2 8PP.

Teaching: (from 1987–8) Irish Law and Society module on Diploma/M.Sc. in Applied Social Studies.

Research: N. Ireland; youth; the 'Troubles', informal economic activity.

Ms M.-L. Jennings
5, Ravenscourt Square, London, W6 0TW.
Research: I am working on an M. Phil., studying Irish provincial newspapers after 1850. At present I am researching the attempts by the government to control the provincial press during the period 1870–1890

Université de Lausanne
Dr M. A. O'Brien Johnson, Section Anglais, BFSH II,
Université de Lausanne, CH-1015 Lausanne, Switzerland.
021 464593

Teaching: Only major Anglo-Irish writers, seen in the context of the mainstream English canon, e.g. Joyce, Beckett, Yeats, Wilde.

Research: Synge (book: Synge: The Medieval and the Grotesque, (Colin Smythe, 1982)). Beckett, especially drama compared with Synge and Yeats. Gynocriticism/feminist critique. Linguistic focus in criticism; the grotesque and the fantastic.

Continued: Ms S. Jacobs

University of Lancaster

Professor J. H. Johnson, Department of Geography, University of Lancaster, Lancaster, LA1 4YR.
0524 65201

Teaching: 2nd Year Undergraduate course: 'The Human Geography of Modern Ireland'.

Research: Historical geography of 19th century Ireland; Various aspects of the human geography of modern Ireland, especially rural settlement changes and regional impact of economic development.

Other: General writing on aspects of Irish geography.

British Irish Association

Mrs Marigold Johnson, 9 Poland Street, London W1.

Other: Contacts for conferences etc.

Leeds Polytechnic

E. J. Judge, Department of Urban Planning, Leeds Polytechnic, Calverley Street, Leeds, LS1 3HE.
0532 463539

Teaching: I give occasional lectures on Irish planning in a course on major European planning systems. I have taken parties of students on field studies courses to Eire mainly to Dublin.

University of Durham

Professor P. Kaim-Caudle, Department of Sociology and Social Policy, University of Durham, New Elvet, Durham, DH1 3JT.
0385 64466

Research: Private health insurance in Ireland. Author of a large number of articles on social policy in Ireland.

St. Mary's College, Belfast

Dr. M. Keane, Department of Geography, St. Mary's College, Belfast.
227678 ext 49

Teaching: Residential patterning, social opportunity, spatial variations.

Research: Ethnic residential change in Belfast. Housing policy in Belfast.

University of Salford

Dr M. C. P. Keating, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, University of Salford, Salford, M5 4WT.
061 736 5843

Other: I am especially interested in the Irish labour movement, especially in its early 20th Century radicalism and its subsequent incorporation into mainstream Irish politics. I am also interested in Irish religion especially in the complex relationships between the 19th Century Roman Catholic Church, the British government and the emerging Nationalist movements and in the growth of sectarian politics in N. Ireland.

University of Oxford, Balliol College

M. H. Keen, Balliol College, University of Oxford, Oxford.

Teaching: I give a course of Lectures on Irish History (England and Ireland) 1169—1360, as part of my lecturing obligation for the University of Oxford. I hope to expand my coverage in future years to take in the period 1360—1536.

Other: I regularly visit University College, Cork, in the Spring to give seminars in European medieval history: this brings me into contact with Irish scholars working there on the same period, which helps to develop a comparative overview.

University of Oxford, St. John's College

Dr J. S. Kelly, St. John's College, Oxford.

Teaching: Anglo-Irish literature. Yeats, Synge, Joyce, O'Casey, etc.

Research: Irish literature 1800—1985.

University of Wales, University College Cardiff

Professor M. M. Kelsall, Department of English, University College, Cardiff.

0222 44211

Teaching: Modern drama — The Abbey Theatre.

Research: Synge and O'Casey. Irish literature of the Romantic period with reference to Byron.

University of Exeter

Professor C. R. Kennedy, Department of Biological Sciences, Hatherly Laboratories, Prince of Wales Road, Exeter, EX4 4PS.
0392 263757

Research: Distribution, pathogenicity, population biology and genetic differences of parasites of freshwater fish in Ireland; in association with the Fisheries Research Centre, Dublin and University College, Cork.

Portsmouth Polytechnic

B. Kenny, School of Social and Historical Studies, Kings Rooms, Bellevue Terrace, Portsmouth, Hampshire.
0705 827681

Teaching: Option in 'Irish Literature and Society (20th Century)' in Cultural Studies; 'Selected Texts' in Literary Studies; authors and texts including The Táin, Yeats, Joyce, Beckett, Heaney.

Mr C. Kerrigan, 38 Ridgale Street, London, E3 2TW.

Other: I am currently writing a book on the temperance leader Father Mathew.

Columbia University

Dr S. Kilfeather, Department of English and Comparative Literature, Hamilton Hall, New York, NY 10027, U.S.A.
212 280-2472

Teaching: Contemporary Irish literature; 18th century constructions of national identity; feminist theory; race and gender in 18th century.

Research: Feminist theory and 18th century Irish literature. Recently completed thesis on the politics of fictions by Irish women, 1690—1829.

University of Bradford

Dr. M. King, School of Technology and Management,
University of Bradford, BD7 1DP.

0274 733466

Research: Teaching on Summer Courses e.g. Yeats Summer School and giving external seminars and lectures and also interdisciplinary work using literature, economics and sociology perspectives.

Research: Synge and the Irish Theatre (book and article published); interdisciplinary approaches to Irish Studies, Irish modernism (book in preparation); Joyce; Yeats; Irish (Gaelic) English interaction (linguistics) and Celticism.

Rolle College, Exmouth

Ms M. G. Lalor,

Department of English, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, Rolle College, Exmouth.

03952 5344

Teaching: Course on the 20th century novel with reference to Joyce and Trevor.

Research: Ph.D. on William Trevor's fiction in progress.

University of Wales, University College Cardiff

Dr A. Lane, Department of Archaeology, University College Cardiff, P.O.Box 78, Cardiff, CF1 1XL

Teaching: Courses on the following: Britain and Ireland 400—700 A.D.; Britain and Viking Ireland 700—1050 A.D. (include sections on Ireland in the early Christian and Viking periods.

Research: Ireland: Dark Age and Viking ceramics; contacts between Scotland and Ireland.

Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission

Mr J. Lang, Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission, 25 Saville Row, London W1X 2BT.

01 734 6010

Teaching: Willing to lecture on research topics.

Research: Archaeology - Viking Age decorated wood from the The Wood Quay site in Dublin. Irish high crosses in relation to sculpture in Northumbria and the Irish sea province.

Other: As an Education Officer for H.B.M.C. (England) I could make a contribution to educational developments regarding early medieval archaeology and art.

University of Warwick

Dr R. H. Lass, Department of English & Comparative Literary Studies, University of Warwick, Coventry, CV4 7AL.

Coventry 24011.

Teaching: English Literature and Celtic Revivalism. (A comparative survey of the contacts of English poets etc., since Spenser with the native traditions of Ireland, Scotland and Wales).

Research: Yeats and literature in Irish.

Other: Irish folklore; English as 'mother-tongue,' Irish as 'native language'.

The Open University

Dr A. Laurence, The Arts Faculty, The Open University, Walton Hall, Milton Keynes MK7 6AA.

0908 653674

Teaching: Although the Open University does not cover specifically Irish history, I have written all the material on 17th century Ireland that does appear. I am interested in setting up a continuing education course on Irish history.

Research: The English presence in Ireland in the 17th century; how English views of Ireland informed English policy.

University of Durham, Trevelyan College

Ms. D. Lavin, Principal, Trevelyan College, Elvet Hill Road, Durham, DH1 3LN.

0385 61133

Teaching: Some Irish content in M.A. course in History and Politics entitled: 'Western European Political Co-operation and Economic Integration'.

Research: Biography of Lionel Curtis (especially 1921—24), his work on the Treaty negotiations and the launch of the Irish branch in the Colonial Office. Commonwealth history in the 20th century.

Rolle College, Exmouth

Dr P. Lawley, Department of English, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, Rolle College, Exmouth.

03952 5344

Research: Samuel Beckett, Irish Drama.

University of Cambridge, Churchill College

Dr S. Lawlor, Churchill College, University of Cambridge, Cambridge, CB3 0DS.

Tel: 61200

Teaching: Ireland 1800—1922 (course of eight lectures on Irish history in the History Faculty, Cambridge 1985—6). 19th and 20th century English history which includes the 'Irish Question'. Undergraduate dissertations on Ulster politics 1886 —1922.

Research: Presently at work on British history, I have written Britain and Ireland 1914-23, (Gill & Macmillan, 1983). I am hoping to write a short book on 'Ireland Today' which will discuss politics economics and social organization.

University of Exeter

Professor R. A. B. Leaper, Department of Sociology, University of Exeter, Amory Building, Rennes Drive, Exeter, EX4 4RJ.

0392 77911

Teaching: Ireland and Irish material is included as a main element in the option in Comparative Social Administration.

Research: Irish social services and social security. Joint organizers (with TCD and UCD) of Séan Lemass Memorial Lecture given annually in Dublin and Exeter (alternately) since 1971.

St. Mary's College, Twickenham

Dr R. M. Lee, Department of Sociology, St Mary's College, Waldegrave Road, Twickenham, TW1 4SX.
01 892 0051

Research: I have carried out research on religious inter-marriage in N. Ireland.

Middlesex Polytechnic

Dr R. Leigh, Department of Geography and Planning, Middlesex Polytechnic, Queen's Way, Enfield, London.
Teaching: Courses on regional development (and policy) and industrial policy on joint honours Economics and Geography Course.

Research: Field projects on the work of development agencies.

Queen's University, Belfast

Mrs E. Longley, Department of English, Queen's University, Belfast, Belfast, BT7 1NN.

Teaching: Option course on '19th and 20th Century Irish Poetry' in Undergraduate Honours Degree; option course on 'Irish Poetry from Yeats to the Present' in M.A. Degree.

Research: Poetry, especially N. Irish poetry and relations between poetry in Britain and Ireland; Louis MacNeice; Irish cultural history

University of Ulster

Dr J. Loughlin, Department of Public Administration and Legal Studies, University of Ulster, Jordanstown, Newtownabbey, BT37 0QB.

0231 65131.

Teaching: Theories and practise of intergovernmental and coreperiphery relations with particular reference to N. Ireland; public policy analysis using case studies drawn from N. Ireland. A Government paper in the B.A. Public Sector examines the N. Ireland Government within the U.K. context.

Research: Ethnic nationalism; regionalism; European integration, political party behaviour in local government; French Federalism.

Ms A. Loughran, 9, Froghall Terrace, Aberdeen AB2 3JJ.
0224 648806

Teaching: 'Gaelic Literature'; an evening course of ten lectures on the Scottish gaelic literature of Skye for the Department of Adult Education and Extra Mural Studies, University of Aberdeen; reference was made to Ireland.

Research: Relations between Gaelic Scotland and Ireland, particularly during the later period. Anonymous song poetry.

Nene College of Higher Education, Northampton

Ms C. Lubelska, Department of History, Nene College, Moulton Park, Northampton, NN6 8RR.

Teaching: Taught within various courses on British history: 'The Irish in England during the 19th Century'. 'Land, society and politics in 19th and early 20th Centuries'. 'The "Irish Question" in British Politics 1872-1922'.

University of Wales, University College of North Wales
Mr F. Lynch, Department of History, University College of North Wales, Bangor, Gwynedd, LL57 2DG.

Teaching: Prehistory of Ireland.

Research: Neolithic and Bronze Age in Ireland,

Other: Irish history generally.

Aberdeen College of Commerce

Mr Q. Lynch, Aberdeen College of Commerce, Department of English and Communications.

0224 572811

Teaching: Poetry, prose S.C.E 'H'; Cambridge Proficiency Literature; London University GCE 'A' Level.
Research: Translation Irish to English An Duanaire, prose and poetry of exile and dispossession.

Other: Irish speaker.

Portsmouth Polytechnic

F. Lyons, School of Social and Historical Studies, Portsmouth Polytechnic, Milldam, Burnaby Road, Portsmouth.
0705 827681

Teaching: I am interested in political sociology, N. Ireland politics and in cultural studies.

Research: The Forum Report and the rise of Sinn Féin. Media representations of Ireland and the Irish Question.

Polytechnic of the South Bank

J. McCarney, Social Sciences Department, Polytechnic of the South Bank, Borough Road, London, SE1.

01 928 8989

Other: I am interested in Irish Studies, but get very little opportunity to teach in this area, apart from occasional students doing projects as part of their degree courses.

Elgar High School, Worcester

W. McClurg, 59, Shrubbery Avenue, Barbourne, Worcester, WR1 1QP

Research: I have taught Irish history and background to the present crisis in the North to a 4th year general studies group.

University of Oxford, Lincoln College

Dr C. McCrudden, Fellow and Tutor in Law, Lincoln College, Oxford, OX1 3DR.

279772

Research: Law and politics of Northern Ireland. Labour law of the Republic of Ireland.

Other: Member: Standing Advisory Commission on Human Rights (N. Ireland).

University of Cambridge

Dr M. McDonald, 'Meadow View', Church Street, Fen Ditton, Cambridge, CB5 8SU.

Teaching: 'Modern Ethnicity' on the Human Sciences Degree, Brunel. 'Ethnic Studies' (supervisor for the Tripos paper at Cambridge).

Research: Celtic ethnicity and questions of majority-minority identity.

St John Fisher R.C. High School, Leeds
B. K. McGrath, Humanities Department, St John Fisher
R.C. High School, Hookstone Drive, Harrogate, HG2
8PT.
887254

Teaching: Considering development of Irish case study material relating to urban transportation — the Dublin
Area Rapid Transit system.

Research: Demography of Irish communities in Leeds.

Liverpool Institute of Higher Education
Dr J. McGurk, Department of History, Liverpool Institute of Higher Education, Stand Park Road, Liverpool, L16 9JD.

Teaching: Year 3 of the B.A. and B.Ed. main history course: 'Irish History from Reformation to Restoration'.
Dissertation option: Anglo-Irish Elizabethan/Jacobean History. In a Year 2 option, 'Britain 1780-1920' about a fifth deals with Irish History.

Research: Late 16th century Ireland. Plantation history.

Continued: McKitterick

University of Cambridge, Newnham College
Dr R. McKitterick, Newnham College, Cambridge, CB3 9DF.
0223 62273

Teaching: Part of Historical Tripos — 'Early Medieval Europe' (Irish activity on the Continent).

Research: Role of early medieval book production in intellectual life, Irish contribution has to be considered as well, but is not my main focus.

Essex Institute of Higher Education
B. McLaughlin, Reader in Planning, School of Planning, Essex Institute of Higher Education, Victoria Road
South, Chelmsford, Essex.

Teaching: B.Sc. Environmental Planning — 'Rural Planning and Development'.

Research: Rural deprivation and rural planning. Conservation in rural areas. Socio-economic developments in rural areas.

Stranmillis College
Dr J. R. B. McMinn, Head of History Department, Stranmillis College, Belfast, BT9 5DY.
665271

Teaching: 'Irish History 1845-1966' (B.Ed. General and Honours degree of Queen's University, Belfast). 'The Anglo-Irish Treaty and the Irish Civil War, 1921-23'
(B.Ed. Honours degree, QUB). 'Ulster Politics, 1868-1914', (B.Ed. Honours Degree, QUB — 4th year special subject).

Research: Religion and politics in Ulster, 1868-1914.

Other: The production of classroom materials on aspects of Irish history for use in schools in N. Ireland.

University of Edinburgh
Professor J. MacQueen, School of Scottish Studies, University of Edinburgh, 27, George Square, Edinburgh,
EH8 9LD.

031 667 1011

Teaching: A four year Honours (single or combined) course in 'Scottish Ethnology'. This inevitably includes much Irish based oral and related material.

Research: Scottish gaelic language, literature, history and institutions. Irish folklore; music, Old and Middle Irish literature, history and institutions.

Other: We have close connections with the Department of Irish Folklore, UCD, and with the smaller institutions within the NUI.

University of Oxford, Magdalen College
Dr A. D. Macintyre, Magdalen College, Oxford, OX1
4AU.
241781

Teaching: Irish history and Anglo-Irish relations, (18th — 20th centuries) in 'British History 1685-1964', a compulsory paper in the Final Honours School of Modern History; 'Ireland in the 1840's' as part of Special Subject on 'Sir Robert Peel's Ministry 1841-1846'.

Research: Social and political history of Ireland, circa 1800 -1922; literary movements, circa 1880-1914.

Other: Supervision for higher degrees at Oxford, several students, past and present, working on Irish history or on Anglo-Irish relations.

University of Glasgow
D. MacLennan, Director, Centre for Housing Research,
53, Southpark Avenue, Glasgow, G12 8RT.
Research: Housing finance. Housing market analysis.
Rural housing.

University of Aberdeen
Mr K. Maguire, 101, Western Road, Woodside, Aberdeen, 0224 483893

Research: My M.Sc. thesis was on Loyalist terrorist groups and a forthcoming article deals with the INLA I have also done research on the Provisional IRA. My Ph.D. concerns ethnic conflict and intergroup relations using N.
Ireland as the main focus of study.

Queen's University Belfast
Dr E. Malcolm, Institute of Irish Studies, 8, Fitzwilliam
Street, Belfast, BT9 6AW.
0232 245133

Research: History of attitudes to and treatment of insanity in Ireland; drink and temperance in Ireland. The Royal Irish Constabulary 1836-1922.

University of Edinburgh, Centre of Canadian Studies
Dr G. Martin, Director, Centre of Canadian Studies, 21,
George Square, Edinburgh, EH8 9LD.
031 667 1011 ext 6801

Teaching: 'Canadian Studies 1' (a first year introduction to Canada) includes a tutorial topic on the Irish in Canada.

Research: Cork sources for Irish independence, 1914-
27; the decline of the Irish language in Cork, 1851-
1911; Sir F. B. Head's Fortnight in Ireland (1852).

Bulmershe College of Higher Education
Mr P. Mathers, Division of Film and Drama, Bulmershe
College of Higher Education, Woodlands Avenue, Earley,
Reading, RG6 3AZ.

Teaching: O'Casey has been taught on our B.A. course

'Two Major Dramatists', 'Representations of N. Ireland' will be taught as a Year 2 Critical Option. Other Irish drama texts (theatrical and televisual) appear in parts of the division's programme, including on practical courses. While at the Ulster Polytechnic I was course leader, establishing a Joint Honours programme in Theatre Studies.

Research: O'Casey as 'marginal' dramatist, with particular reference to his handling of sexual difference.

University of Reading

Professor D.J.A. Matthew, Head of Department, Department of History, University of Reading, Reading, RG6 2AA. 0734 875123

Research: preparing a Ph.D. thesis for Durham on the English administration of Ireland in the reign of Henry VI.

University of Edinburgh

Dr D. E. M. Meek, Department of Celtic, University of Edinburgh, David Hume Tower, George Square, Edinburgh, EH8 9JX.

031 667 1011

Research: The heroic ballad tradition.

University of Keele

Dr S. Mills, David Bruce Centre for American Studies, University of Keele, Staffordshire, ST5 5BG.

Teaching: My main interests are in Irish-America, partition and landscape. I have also taught the final year special subject: Irish-Americans 1840's—1920's.

Research: My interests concern the impact of US nationalism upon Irish nationalism with specific reference to images of Ulster, partition and the border. My other interests concern general undergraduate lectures on the Ulster-Scots on the US border, especially Appalachia.

University of Newcastle upon Tyne

Dr H. Moisl, School of English, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE1 7RU.

Research: Early Irish literature; Irish elements in continental monasteries; early Irish monastic literature.

Thomond College, Limerick

Dr R. Moles, Department of Geography, Thomond College, Plassey, Limerick. 334488

Teaching: Several courses related to the Irish environment and Irish social and political events and processes.

Research: Irish post-primary education, especially through the subject of geography. Ecological investigations within the Burren, Co. Clare.

J. Moore, 14, Tremaine Close, Brockley, London, S.E. 4 01 691 7956

Teaching: Freelance Irish Studies Tutor in the London area; from 1980 to 1984 I taught a course on Northern Irish Politics in the Politics Department, York University. I now teach at Kilburn Polytechnic, the North East London Polytechnic North Staffordshire Polytechnic, ILEA and the WEA. My primary interest is in the contemporary politics and history of Ireland.

Research: The British Labour Party and the Irish Question.

University of Aberdeen

Professor R. Moore, Department of Sociology University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen, AB9 2TY

Research: A general interest in N. Ireland in terms of ethnic stratification and conflict and the sociology of development in the European periphery.

Wolverhampton Polytechnic

Dr N. Moreland, Head of Curriculum Studies, Wolverhampton Polytechnic, Castle View, Dudley, DY1 3HR. 59741

Research: Vocational education and teacher education.

Continued: Ms M.M. Morgan

University of Lancaster

Ms M.M. Morgan, Department of Theatre Studies, Department of English Literature, University of Lancaster, Bailrigg, Lancaster.

0524 65201

Teaching: 'The Abbey Theatre, Dublin' (the beginnings to the present). This is a 3rd year option which considers the theatre, its audience, organization, company and repertoire in the context of politics and society.

Research: G.B. Shaw and W.B. Yeats (within sphere of Irish Studies).

University of Cambridge, St. Catherine's College

Dr H. Morgan, St. Catherine's College, Cambridge. 60437

Research: Early modern Ireland. Ph.D. thesis on the Nine Years War.

University of Durham

Mr C. D. Morris, Department of Archaeology, University of Durham, 46, Saddler Street, Durham, DH1 3NU. 091 374 3628

Teaching: The archaeology of late Celtic and Viking Britain circa 400–1200 A.D.; The Vikings in the West.

Research: Viking settlement in the British Isles and N. Atlantic and the interaction of the Scandinavians with the native peoples of the area.

Edge Hill College of Higher Education

A. E. G. Morton, Social Sciences, Edge Hill College of Higher Education, Ormskirk, Lancashire, L39 6SE. 051 75171 ext 270

Teaching: B.A. Applied Social Sciences; (ASS 201) core 2nd year course (average 50 students). Introductory material on 'The Six Counties'; ASS 306 'Contemporary Social Issues and Problems', special focus on media coverage of Ireland and British policy (average recruitment 25 students); ASS 306 'Crime, Conflict and the State', focus on the normalization of Special Powers in the Irish Republic, N. Ireland and Britain (average recruitment 30 students). M.A. in Crime Deviance and Social Policy; 2nd year unit in the Criminal Justice Option on Special Powers and Emergency Legislation (average recruitment more than 20 students).

Continued: Moore

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

Research: (For course development); the political and economic significance of Ireland for the British State; the historical roots of Ulster Unionism and Irish Nationalism; paramilitary traditions; structural inequality and the N. Ireland State; civil disorder in the 1960's and the re-emergence of the IRA; the rôle of the British Army and counter-insurgency; British policy since Direct Rule. Criminalization, Ulsterization and Normalization; understanding the Protestants: class fractions and class alliances; struggles within the Nationalist communities: constitutionalism or paramilitarism; contemporary political and economic issues: the Anglo-Irish Accord, the EEC, NATO and the Western Alliance; gender, nationality and class.

Funded by the College Research Advisory Group: 'Ireland, the British State and the normalization of Special Powers'. A study of the historical record and contemporary issues of the Criminal Justice systems of the respective states.

Nene College

S. R. Moss, Department of History, Nene College, Park Campus, Northampton.

715000

Teaching: B.A.(Hons) Combined Studies Degree: 3rd Year Main History Studies: 'Britain and Europe 1880-1839'. This includes studies of Anglo-Irish Relations. Irish politics and society (comparative context) of the period under review.

Queen's University Belfast

Ms K. Muhr, 57 Candahar Street, Belfast, BT7 3AR.
0223 245133

Teaching: I am involved in giving occasional lectures to societies; extra mural courses, OU teaching - I have been asked to complete an Irish Supplement to EH207 'Communication and Education'. I am also a Celtic linguist and folklorist trained in Scotland with an interest in Gaelic traditional literature as well as the history of cultural relations between Ireland and Scotland.

University of Warwick

Professor J. R. Mulryne, Department of English and Comparative Literary Studies, University of Warwick, Coventry, CV4 7AL.
0203 523667

Teaching: I have offered seminar courses on Yeats and his associates, and lectured on Yeats, Anglo-Irish poetry, and the Abbey dramatists.

Research: Yeats and Edward Dowden, Yeats and Shakespeare, Yeats and the 19th century theatre.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic

Dr A. Munslow, Department of Humanities, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Beaconside, Stafford, ST18 0AD.
0785 52331

Teaching: Irish emigration to the USA features in 2nd and 3rd year courses on American History in the B.A. Modern Studies and the B.A. Literature and History.

Research: 'Political Assimilation and Bossism in NE USA in the 19th century' (Ph.D. Thesis).

Other: Editor, Newsletter, British Association for American Studies

St. Mary's College, Twickenham

D. Murphy, Department of English, St. Mary's College, Twickenham, TW1 4SX.

Teaching: Undergraduate courses on the English language in Ireland a sociolinguistic study of the dialects of English spoken in Ireland and the English of Irish writers.

Cambridgeshire College of Arts & Technology

M. J. Murphy, School of History, Cambridgeshire College of Arts & Technology, East Road, Cambridge, CB1 1PT.
63271

Teaching: B.A Hons. Modern History and B.A. Hons Humanities Social Studies. (1) 'Irish Nationalism and British Politics 1870-1923' (Dissertation Seminar). (2) Irish History 1800-1949, included in British History lecture courses.

Research: 19th and early 20th century Irish history. University of York

Dr H. C. Mytum, Department of Archaeology, Micklegate House, Micklegate, York, YO1 1JZ.

Teaching: Archaeology, rural settlement and economy - early Christian Ireland.

Research: Rural settlement of early Christian period, social and economic change in early Christian period. Relationship of settlement to landscape - multiperiod.

University of Oxford

G. Nagle, School of Geography, University of Oxford, Mansfield Road, Oxford.
0865 241791

Teaching: Not given as lectures, but occasional seminars and tutorials on the geography of Ireland (in relation to Britain and France, social problems, EEC regional policy).

Research: 1) Medical geography. 2) Spatial variations in Ireland with regard to morbidity, mortality and delivery of health care. 3) The Role of the RC Church in the patterning of health care facilities and health legislation.

Other: Undergraduate dissertations - 'Agriculture in Kerry'; 'Community Identification', etc..

Mourne Local Studies Group

Mrs D. Nicholson, 76, Greencastle Road, Derryogue, Kilkeel, Co. Down, BT3 4JL.
06937 62481

Teaching: 1981-83: Local Studies in schools organizing projects. One Year in Textile Department of Ulster Folk and Transport Museum. Workshop at World Reading Conference, theme - 'Language Development through Traditional Textile Crafts'.

Continued: Munslow

Research: Articles on Hanna's Close (Clachan). Bleaching Green and Tuck Mill (Townland). Proposed research into local cottage industries in the 19th and early 20th centuries and diary of a local man who emigrated to Australia in 1888. Also other aspects of rural life.

University of Aberdeen

C. OBaoill, Department of Celtic, University of Aberdeen, Old Aberdeen, Scotland, AB9 2UB.
0224 480241

Teaching: Old, Classical and Modern Irish literature and language. Language to all levels, from beginners to post-graduate.

Research: Trí Rainn agus Amhrán; prose 1400—1700, with emphasis on the Scottish contribution.

Irish Texts Society

Mr N. O'Connell, 39, Westbury Road, New Malden, Surrey, KT3 5AX.

Other: Publication of Irish texts with translations etc..

Universität Bonn

Dr A. O Corráin, Sprachwissenschaftliches Institut des Universität Bonn, An der Schlosskirche 2, D-5300 Bonn 1, W. Germany.

0228 73 76 92

Teaching: Celtic philology; modern Irish language and literature; Old Irish language and literature.

Research: Modern and Old Irish linguistics and literature.

Polytechnic of North London

Dr A. O'Day, Department of History, Philosophy and European Studies, Polytechnic of North London, Prince of Wales Road, London, NW5 3LB.

01 607 2789

Teaching: 'The Anglo-Irish Crisis, 1867-1922' (Final Year Special Subject). Components in courses on modern Britain and the USA.

Research: Irish nationalism, 19th and 20th century. Irish Terrorism. Irish community in Britain since 1829. In press: Parnell and the First HomeRule Episode 1884-86 (Gill & Macmillan); Ireland's Terrorist Dilemma (ed. by Martinus Nijhoff). I am a member of the panel participating in the European Science Foundation study of non-dominant ethnic minorities in Europe.

University of Wales, University College of North Wales
Dr C. O Dochartaigh, Glasfryn, Lôn Pobty, Gwynedd, LL57 1EJ.

0248 354547

Research: Computerized dictionary of Irish. Computer storage and retrieval of dialect data. Phonetics and phonology of Irish.

Conradh na Gaeilge, Craobh Mhic Easmuin, Londain
S. O Dónalláin, C/o 101, Kennedy Road, London, W7 1JW.
01 578 3010

Teaching: Adult education classes in the Irish language; particular emphasis on developing tuition related to the needs of first and second generation British-born who have not encountered Irish in the school system.

Research: Three articles published in Irish Studies in Britain a survey of evening class students of Irish; a review of the approaches to adult education of 5 Celtic language teachers in London; a brief review of experience in teaching Irish to 7—11 year olds in London. A 'Children's Language Project' has been set up and has begun to publish teaching materials in the Irish language designed specifically for primary and lower secondary school children in Britain and their teachers and parents.

University of Oxford, Magdalen College

Mr B. O'Donoghue, Magdalen College, Oxford, Oxford.
725856

Teaching: Yeats - Special paper (University Final Examination). I have given classes in the Irish language in the University and I am considering a course of lectures on Irish poetry in both languages.

Research: Principally Middle English but I teach, and have published on, modern Irish poetry. I am preparing an essay on Paul Muldoon for Studies in Contemporary Irish Literature (Montreal).

Continued: O'Dowd

Queen's University, Belfast

Dr L. O'Dowd, Department of Social Studies, Queen's University, Belfast, BT7 1NN
245133

Teaching: Course Co-ordinator, M.S.Sc. (Irish Studies) / Dip. Soc.Sc. (Irish Studies) [part-time]; 'Social Structure of Modern Ireland' (Sociology Option). Irish content in: 'Social Development and Change'; 'Urban Sociology'; 'Social Change, Work and Unemployment'.

Research: Intellectuals and social ideology in Ireland since 1920. Urban and regional development. The locality effects of industrial restructuring, especially in N. Ireland.

Other: Introductory textbook - Sociology of Ireland; A Social Science Bibliography of Northern Ireland (currently being updated).

Rev T. O Dunlaing, Franciscan Friary, 15, Cuppin Street, Chester.

351331

Teaching: Basic Irish.

Research: History and Mythology.

University of Wales, Institute of Science & Technology

Dr P. N. O'Faurell, Department of Town Planning, University of Wales Institute of Science & Technology, Colum Drive, Cardiff, CF1 3EU.

Research: Manufacturing investment and location. New firm formation and performance. Industrial change and politics. Regional policy. Economic policy — the spatial impact of social and economic change.

Continued: O'Hara

BRITISH ASSOCIATION FOR IRISH STUDIES

St. Mary's College, Twickenham

J. O'Hara, Department of History, St Mary's College, Strawberry Hill, Twickenham, Middlesex, TW1 4SX.
01 892 0051

Teaching: Third Year Option Course: Anglo-Irish Relations 1880—1921.

Research: Anglo-Irish Relations in late 19th and early 20th Centuries; Literature and Politics since 1850.

Other: Vice-Chairman, BAIS.

University of Warwick

R. Okey, Department of History, University of Warwick, Coventry.

24011

Teaching: A group of Seminars on Irish Nationalism; from late 18th century as case study in a course on nationalism.

Other: I am involved in a comparative project under the European Science Foundation on 'Governments and Non-Dominant Ethnic Groups in Europe, 1850—1940'. Ireland is represented in this project (not by me) and I am interested in the themes of religion and education.

University of Durham

Dr M. O'Neill, University of Durham, Department of English, Elvet Riverside, New Elvet, Durham, DH1 3JT.
0385 64466

Teaching: Louis MacNeice; Seamus Heaney.

Research: Modern Irish Poetry - Heaney, Mahon, Muldoon, Murphy.

St. Mary's College of Education, Belfast

Ms R. O'Neill, Physical Education Department, St. Mary's College of Education, 191, Falls Road, Belfast, BT12 6FE.
0223 227678

Teaching: Folk dancing - Irish dancing and music.

Research: Irish dancing and music — history, motivating factors in regard to participation, etc..

University of Exeter

Mr O. J. Padel, Institute of Cornish Studies, University of Exeter, Trevenson House, Pool, Redruth, TR15 3RE.

Research: Celtic languages, onomastics.

University of Reading

Professor P. Parrinder, Department of English, University of Reading, P.O. Box 218, Reading, RG6 2AA.
0734 875123

Teaching: Study of Swift is compulsory for B.A. English Language and Literature students. 20th century Irish authors are studied in two optional courses at present: 'Major Modern Authors' (includes Yeats and Joyce); 'Drama of Beckett and Pinter'.

Research: James Joyce and Samuel Beckett.

Stranmillis College, Belfast

Ms G. Patterson, English Department, Stranmillis College, Belfast, BT9 5DY.
665271

Teaching: 3rd Year Hons, 'James Joyce', 'Anglo-Irish

Novels'; Samuel Beckett, W.B. Yeats, Anglo-Irish Drama.

Research: W.B. Yeats (with T.S. Eliot and Philip Larkin) — poetry and poetic drama.

Other: Consultant Editor, Yeats-Eliot Review.

Nottingham University

T. N. Paulin, English Department, Nottingham University, University Park, Nottingham, NG7 2RD.

0602 506101

Teaching: Modern Irish drama, modern Irish poetry.

Joyce. Modern Irish short story.

Research: N. Irish oratory and writing, 1795 to present.

Vernacular poetry; poetry and state ideology.

University of Bradford

G. Pearson, 61, Godolphin Road, London, W12.

01 743 7084

Research: History of street crime in Britain (c.f. G. Pearson, Hooligan: A History of Respectable Fears, (Macmillan, 1983)). Origins of the word 'hooligan'; relationships to patterns of migration and settlement into London in late 19th century.

College of Ripon & York, St. John

Dr D. Pierce, Department of Language and Literature, College of Ripon & York St. John, Lord Mayor's Walk, York, YO3 7EX.

0904 56771

Teaching: Part II course on Anglo-Irish literature; component on 'Writers and Politics' course deals with contemporary N. Irish poets; modernism; Part II History component of course on nationalism. M.A. in English Studies in Education (Yeats and Joyce figure prominently in 'Modernism' Unit, they can also be the subject of dissertations).

Research: Doctoral thesis - joint study of Yeats and Joyce (now completed). Yeats and Joyce as Irish authors.

Leeds Polytechnic

J. Piper, Leeds Polytechnic School of Education, Beckett Park, Leeds 6.

Teaching: I have taught 19th and 20th century Irish history as part of B.Ed. courses.

Research: Edmund Burke — thesis 1969.

Other: Interest in Donegal local history, Anna Parnell.

University of Lancaster

Dr C. G. Pooley, Department of Geography, University of Lancaster, Bailrigg, Lancaster, LA1 4YR.

0524 65201

Teaching: As a small component in a third year course on the 'Social Geography of Urban Britain 1800 — 1940', focusing on the Irish experience in Great Britain.

Research: Irish migration to the British mainland in the 19th and early 20th century. The residential segregation, cultural development and assimilation of Irish migrants in British cities 1800 — 1940, especially Liverpool.

Other: For comparative purposes — the Irish experience overseas.

Continued:Pountney

King Alfreds College, Winchester

Dr R. Pountney, Department of Drama, King Alfred's College, Winchester.

Teaching: Yeats' and Beckett's drama, also Wilde and Shaw for CNAAs degrees in English and Drama, History and Drama and Hons. Drama, also for the Oxford B.A. (English). Part-time lecturer in English, Jesus College, Oxford.

Research: D. Phil. thesis on Beckett's plays (a manuscript, pattern and performance study). In addition to teaching Beckett, I have performed in several of the plays. I now direct some of the plays annually with Winchester students.

Crewe + Alsager College of Higher Education

Dr J. D. Pratten, Department of Business & Management Studies, Crewe + Alsager College, Crewe Road, Crewe.

Research: James Larkin and the Dublin Transport Strike, 1913.

King Alfred's College, Winchester

T. Prentki, Drama Department, King Alfred's College, Winchester.

62281

Research: I am currently preparing an International Companion to the poetry of W.B. Yeats for publication by Colin Smythe Ltd.

United World College of the Adriatic

Mr. P. Quinlivan, United World College of the Adriatic, Duino (TS) 34013, Italy.

040 208822

Teaching: I teach current affairs/international relations. Ireland and EFL Literature – James Joyce and W.B. Yeats.

Research: My research interests include the Fenians in England (1858–1870) and the IRB/The Irish in England (1858–1870).

Other: Anglo-Irish Literature.

University of York

Professor P. A. Rahtz, The Old School, Harome, Helmsley, York, YO6 4JE

0439 70862

Research: General interest in Dark Age Ireland, along with that of Western Britain.

Other: Some contacts with Irish Archaeologists in Belfast Dublin, Cork Galway.

University of Birmingham

Dr L. Rayner, Department of English, Faculty of Arts, University of Birmingham, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.

Teaching: Old and Middle Irish language and literature; early Medieval Irish culture and history.

Research: The Old Irish poetic orders; influence of Irish scholars in continental scholarly circles in the Carolingian period.

University of Wales, University College, Cardiff

Ms. T. Rees, Social Research Unit, University College, Cardiff, P.O. Box 78, Cardiff, CF1 1XL.

0222 44211

Research: Youth unemployment and State Schemes for the training and employment of young people.

University of Durham

Dr G. Reeves, Department of English, University of Durham, Elvet Riverside, New Elvet, Durham, DH1 3JT. 0385 64466

Teaching: The poetry of Louis MacNeice in a course on 'British Poetry of the 1930s'.

Research: The poetry of Louis MacNeice.

Merseyside Probation Service

M. Riabhaigh, Pagemoss Probation Office, Hambleton Hall, St. Davids Road, Liverpool, L14 9NU.

Teaching: A Programme for less academic 5th Year comprehensive school pupils revealing their root Irish identity and the relevance to crime prevention of such a realization. Liberal Theology Group in Kistely Unemployed Centre — adults — based on Irish root identity. NAPO (Union) Report on 'Irish Dimension to Social Work'.

Research: The rediscovery and development of Irish identity in British mainland UPAs — its purpose and cultural response to multisocial deprivation. The Irish in Britain.

Other: Relevance of Irish identity in English/French speaking working class areas both historically and as a base for constructive cultural development.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic

Dr C. S. Richards, Department of Humanities, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Beaconside, Stafford, ST18 0AD. 0785 52331

Teaching: 2nd year course, (interdisciplinary) 'Ireland: The Revival and the Rising'; 3rd year course (interdisciplinary) 'Contemporary Cultural Politics in Ireland'. Shaw, Beckett, Synge, O'Casey taught within drama courses. Lecture and seminars at Yeats International Summer School.

Research: 19th and early 20th century cultural history, analysis of discourse formations. Book, Writing Ireland: Colonialism, Nationalism and Culture. 19th and 20th century Irish drama, theatre semiotics. Articles include: 'Discourses of Opposition and Resistance in late Nineteenth Century Ireland', 'Reading a Riot: The Reading Formation of Synge's Abbey Audience', etc.. Supervisor with Dr D.W. Cairns of a programme of research on the 'Reading Formation of late 19th century Irish audiences'.

Other: Founder member, BAIS. Treasurer, BAIS.

Language Teaching Centre

T. F. Riordan, 11, Brasenose Drive, Kidlington, Oxfordshire.

Teaching: Beginners and intermediate Irish language course.

University of Reading

Dr K. G. Robertson, P.O. Box 218, Graduate School of European and International Studies, University of Reading, Reading.

Teaching: N. Ireland, terrorism and political crime: government policies and responses.

Research: N. Ireland terrorism, security policies.

Polytechnic of North London

C. Rolfe, Department of Language and Literature, Prince of Wales Road, Kentish Town, London, NW5 3LB.

01 607 2789

Teaching: James Joyce: major modern authors: Joyce and Faulkner. The European epic: Homer to Joyce.

Research: James Joyce.

Other: Strong interest in all aspects of Irish literature and Irish-American literature.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College
Royal Holloway and Bedford College, Department of Drama and Theatre Studies, Sutherland House, Egham Hill, Egham, Surrey, TW20 OEX.

39957

Teaching: Drama courses for 2nd and 3rd year undergraduates on Irish drama; Boucicault, G. B. Shaw, Yeats, Lady Gregory, O'Casey, Beckett and Friel.

Research: One year M.A. course includes student workshops on Irish theatre and drama e.g. Well of the Saints. Postgraduates also work on theses on Irish drama topics.

University of Strathclyde

Professor Richard Rose, Centre for Study of Public Policy, University of Strathclyde, Livingstone Tower, 26, Richmond Street, Glasgow, G1 1XH

(041) 552 4400

Research: Government and politics of the United Kingdom; parameters of the UK State.

University of Toronto

Professor A. Saddlemeyer, Department of English and Graduate Centre for the Study of Drama, University of Toronto, 214, College Street, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5T 2Z1.

416-585-4481

Teaching: Occasional undergraduate course on W. B. Yeats; regular undergraduate course in modern drama which includes many Anglo-Irish playwrights; graduate course on Abbey Theatre, modern Irish drama, G. B. Shaw and his contemporaries, J. M. Synge, etc., on a rotating basis.

Research: Drama and poetry in general; specifically, working on a biography of Mrs. W. B. Yeats (née Georgie Hyde-Lees).

University of East Anglia

Ms L. Sage, Dean, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich, NR4 7TJ.

0603 56161

Teaching: Occasionally, parts of courses in history and literature; Joyce, Beckett, etc. taught regularly.

University of St. Andrews

Dr T. C. Salmon, International Relations, Department of Economics, University of St. Andrews, St. Andrews, Fife, KY16 9AL.

0334 76161

Research: Irish neutrality in the 20th century, with particular reference to whether Ireland is a genuinely neutral country, whether it is 'non-aligned', and what has been the impact of European Community membership upon Irish Foreign Policy.

Glasgow School of Art

P.J. Seddon, C/o Historical and Critical Studies Department, Glasgow School of Art, 107, Renfrew St., Glasgow.

041 332 9797

Other: As a practising artist, I have dealt on a number of occasions with Irish Themes. Most recently with assistance from the Scottish Arts Council, I have produced an artist's book using Tom Paulin's collection of poems, Liberty Tree.

University of Birmingham

Mr R. M. V. Shackleton, Department of History, University of Birmingham, Arts Division, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.

021 472 1301

Teaching: I teach a first year course on 'The problem of Ulster in the 20th Century' and supervise third year dissertation topics in 20th century Irish history, particularly in relation to Ulster.

Research: Supervising Ms. K. Ziesler researching a Ph. D. on 'The Irish in Birmingham, 1850-1950'.

University of Kent, Darwin College

Dr B. Sharratt, Darwin College, University of Kent, Canterbury, Kent, CT5 7NY.

0227 66822

Teaching: 'Modern Irish Literature', Part II course (2 Terms, 18 Seminars) for English Board of Studies, offered to 2nd and 3rd year students — averages 24 takers, including several U.S., French, German, short term students; covers Anglo-Irish writing 1880 — present, very selective, especially after 1945.

Research: Published on Beckett and Heaney. Currently committed to critical book, probably on Yeats, Joyce, O'Brien and Beckett for Harvester Press.

The Open University

D. Sheills, Faculty of Arts, (History Department), Open University, Walton Hall, Milton Keynes.

Research: Irish policing and political and social conflict in Ireland in the late 19th and early 20th centuries with reference to state activity in the area of law and order and how responses were mediated by class, religion, and environment.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic

Mr J. Sheils, Department of Sociology, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Leek Road, Stoke-on-Trent.

Teaching: Element in undergraduate courses dealing with discrimination and with religion.

Continued: Salmon

Research: N. Ireland and sectarianism.

University of Cambridge, St. John's College

Dr P. Sims-Williams, Department of Anglo-Saxon, Norse and Celtic, St John's College, Cambridge.

Teaching: Early and Medieval Irish language and literature.

Research: Old Irish language and literature; comparative Celtic philology; relations between Celtic countries and England and the Continent.

Other: Anglo-Saxon history; Medieval Latin literature.

Editor of Cambridge Medieval Celtic Studies (twice a year, 1981 -).

University of Birmingham

Dr I. Small, Department of English, University of Birmingham, Arts Division, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.

021 472 1301

Research: Conducting joint research with Dr R. Jackson on Oscar Wilde

Edge Hill College of Higher Education,

Ms A. Smith, Humanities Faculty, Edge Hill College of Higher Education, St. Helens Road, Ormskirk, Lancashire, L39 4QP.

0695 75171

Teaching: Research for course preparation is taking place in the following areas: the historical roots of Republicanism, Loyalism and sectarianism; partition and the founding of the N. Ireland State.

La Sainte Union College of Higher Education

Dr A. Smith, La Sainte Union College of Higher Education, The Avenue, Southampton, SO9 5HB.

0227 228761

Teaching: Europe Since 1963 — 3rd year course which includes a unit on N. Ireland; interdisciplinary course on contemporary Irish history and literature in both B.Ed. (Hons.) English and History, commencing 1988.

Research: Interest in Ireland as part of a broader concern with militant separatism over the past 25 years as part of my doctoral thesis. Interested in the contribution of Shaw, Joseph Hone, Francis Sheehy-Skeffington, etc., to the early New Statesman.

University of Newcastle upon Tyne

C. Smith, Department of Archaeology, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne.

328511

Teaching: Upper palaeolithic and mesolithic Britain and Ireland.

Research: Early post-glacial settlement of the Atlantic façade; megalithic tombs.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic

Dr J. Smith, Department of Sociology, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Leek Road, Stoke-on-Trent.

Research: Attitudes towards the Irish in Glasgow and Liverpool, 1880's-1930's qualitative analysis of the socio-economic status of Irish women and men in Glasgow and Liverpool, 1880 -1930.

University of Notre Dame

Mr J.A. Spence, The London Program, College of Arts and Letters, University of Notre Dame, 7, Albermarle Street, London, W1X 3HF.

01 493 2951

Teaching: N. Ireland: a dissection of the troubles; modern Irish History 1603 - present day; some political, social and cultural aspects.

Research: 19th century Protestant nationalism. 'The Ulster Question'. The literary renaissance and its aftermath (with special reference to the founding of the Abbey Theatre as the Irish national theatre and to contemporary Irish drama).

Teesside Polytechnic

M. Squires, Department of Humanities, Teesside Polytechnic, Middlesbrough, Cleveland, TS1 3BA.

Research: M.Phil. on Unionists in N. Ireland in the 1980's.

University of Durham

Dr C. E. Stancliffe, Department of History, Durham University, 43-6, North Bailey, Durham, DH1 3GX.

Tel: 64466

Research: Early Medieval Ireland (5th - 8th centuries) particularly the introduction and development of Christianity within Ireland and its interaction with Irish society. Publications include: 'Early Irish Biblical Exegesis', 'Kings and Conversion', 'Red White and Blue Martyrdom', 'Kings Who Opted Out', 'Columbanus'.

University of Aberdeen

Dr D. Stevenson, Department of History, University of Aberdeen, Old Aberdeen, AB9 2UB.

Research: Scottish-Irish Relations in the 17th century.

Sunderland Polytechnic

R. PStewart, Department of Social Sciences, Sunderland Polytechnic, Douro House, Douro Terrace, Sunderland.

Teaching: Contribution to a course on 'War and Conflict' on the origins and development of the N. Ireland State.

Research: Irish Labour history. The Orange Order and the history of the Ulster Unionist Council.

University of Birmingham

Mr M. Storey, Department of English, Arts Division, University of Birmingham, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.

021 472 1301

Research: Anglo-Irish poetry.

Continued: Sullivan

University College Swansea

Mr M. Sullivan, School of Social Studies, University College Swansea, Singleton Park, Swansea, SA2 8PP.

Teaching: Irish Welfare law, component on 'Irish society and Law' for Diploma/M.Sc. Econ in Applied Social Studies.

Research: Social policy formation, aims and functions of social policy, political philosophy and welfare systems, formal /informal welfare systems.

University of Cambridge, Peterhouse College

Rory Sweetman, Peterhouse College, Cambridge, CB2 1RD.

Teaching: Undergraduate supervision (19th century history)

Research: New Zealand Irish and Catholics. Irish emigration.

Chester College of Higher Education

Dr R. E. Swift, Department of History, Chester College of Higher Education, Cheyney Road, Chester, CH1 4BJ. 375444

Teaching: 'The Irish in Victorian Britain' (as component of 3rd Year B.A. History course on Britain, 1800—1900).

Research: The Irish in Britain. Publications include: Roger Swift and Sheridan Gilley (eds.) The Irish in the Victorian City, (Croom Helm, 1985); Roger Swift, 'Crime and Ethnicity: The Irish in Early Victorian Wolverhampton', West Midlands Studies, 13 (1980), pp. 1-5; Roger Swift, 'Anti-Catholicism and Irish Disturbances: Public Order in Mid-Victorian Wolverhampton', Midland History, IX (1984), pp. 87-108, Roger Swift, '"Another Stafford Street Row": Law, Order and the Irish Presence in Mid-Victorian Wolverhampton', Immigrants and Minorities, 3 (1984), pp. 5-29. Lecture to joint Anglo-Irish Conference 'Multicultural Education: The Irish Dimension', Birmingham, March 1985, published in Teaching History, June 1986.

King Alfred's College, Winchester

P. Sykes, Drama Department, King Alfreds College, Winchester, Hampshire.

0962 62281

Teaching: I am teaching television on a combined drama and television degree, B.A. (Hons) Drama Television.

Research: I was involved in the making of the last series of television films based on the 'Irish RM' stories, directing after researching the stories in West Cork. I am researching the period 1870—1945.

Other: I am scripting (together with Elizabeth-Jane Howard), the lives of Edith Somerville and Martin Ross.

Liverpool University

Dr M. Tadman, Economic History Department, Liverpool University, Senate House, Abercromby Square, Liverpool, L69 3BX.

051 709 6022

Teaching: Irish Americans are one of a wide range of ethnic groups studied in a 2nd Year undergraduates course 'American Society: Race, Class, and Ethnicity' (Irish Americans are studied in relation to 'assimilation', social mobility).

Exeter University

R. Tamplin, American and Commonwealth Arts, School of English, Exeter University, Devon.

Teaching: 'Literature and National Consciousness'. Irish writing in English — 1845 to the present.

Research: Currently working on Seamus Heaney (book for Open University Press, chapters on AE and W. B. Yeats as part of a study on poetry and mysticism. Preliminary work on Irish immigrant writing in the United States 19th to early 20th centuries.

Polytechnic of Wales

I. D. Thomas, Department of Arts and Languages, Polytechnic of Wales, Pontypridd, Mid-Glamorgan.

405133

Teaching: Relating Welsh and Irish issues in a final year course 'The Making of Modern Wales' (1867—1914).

University of Exeter

Professor C. Thomas, The Director, Institute of Cornish Studies, Trevenson House, Pool, Redruth, TR15 3RE

0782 72980

Research: Hon. Member of the Royal Irish Academy and the Medieval Academy of Ireland, Hon. Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries of Ireland. Many publications. Main interest is early Christian Ireland in its European context.

Hatfield Polytechnic,

Mr T. G. Thomas, Head of Historical Studies, Hatfield Polytechnic, College Lane, Hatfield, Hertfordshire, AL10 9AB

Teaching: Irish material appears in the B.A. Contemporary Studies and B.A. Humanities in courses on 19th and 20th century British and European History and also (and increasingly often) as a topic for undergraduate dissertations.

Research: I am interested in Irish material as part of my continuing research on Contemporary European Studies and international affairs related to course design and development.

St. Mary's College of Education, Belfast

Dr F. Thompson, History Department, St. Mary's College of Education, Trench House, Stewartstown Road, Belfast, BT11.

Teaching: 'Irish History 1845—1966' (general degree course). 'Ulster Politics 1868—1914' (Hons Special Subject).

Research: Land and Politics in Ulster, 1868—1914.

University of Birmingham

Mrs D. Thompson, C/o Department of History, University of Birmingham, Arts Division, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.

021 472 1301

Research: Connections between British radicalism and Irish politics in the 19th century.

University of Newcastle upon Tyne
R. K. R. Thornton, Department of English Literature, The University, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE1 7RU.
0632 238511

Teaching: M.A. in English and American Literature of the 20th century. Section on Anglo-Irish drama (Wilde, Shaw, Yeats, Synge, O'Casey, Beckett, Friel). Section on Joyce. Teaching in 20th century poetry on Yeats, Heaney.

Research: Oscar Wilde. I am supervising a postgraduate student who is working on Wilde's criticism.

Queen's University, Belfast
Mr M. Tomlinson, Department of Social Studies, Queen's University, Belfast, BT7 1NN.
0232 245133

Teaching: Social policy in connection with N. Ireland, particularly housing, social security, unemployment, sectarian division, crime and punishment.

Research: In regard to N. Ireland — criminal justice system (particularly prisons); compilation of social science bibliographies; generally law, policy and practice regarding sectarianism, sexism and racism in Europe.

Other: Ideology and the Irish conflict.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic
R. Tooze, Department of International Relations and Politics, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Beaconside, Stafford, ST18 0AD.
0785 52331

Teaching: Unit on Ireland as a case study of a small state in a course on 'International Political Economy'.

Research: Ireland in the world political economy (linked to theory of political economy).

University of Keele
Dr C. Townshend, Department of History, University of Keele, Keele, Staffordshire, ST5 5BG.
0782 621111

Teaching: 2nd Year course, 'Ireland from Land War to Civil War', 3rd Year course (special subject) 'The Irish Revolution'.

Research: British policy in Ireland since 1800; political violence in Ireland.

Queen's University, Belfast
Dr K. Trew, Department of Psychology, Queen's University, Belfast, BT7 1NN.
0232 661111

Teaching: Final Year option: 'Psychology and the N. Ireland Conflict'.

Research: Sectarianism / political socialization / identity. Community / Holiday / Intergroup contact. Impact of stress on psychological well-being.

La Sainte Union College of Higher Education, Southampton
B. Tucker, Head, English Department, La Sainte Union College of Higher Education, The Avenue, Southampton, SO9 5MB.
0703 228761

Teaching: Yeats and Swift included in B.A. and B.Ed. courses.

Research: M. Phil. (1984) Southampton University 'The Poetry of Swift'; Jonathan Swift (Gill's Irish Lives), (Gill & Macmillan, 1983).

Other: 'The Anglo-Irish' — work just beginning.

The Glendale Press
T. F. Turley, Publisher, The Glendale Press, 18, Shara-vogue, Glenageary Road Upper, Dun Laoghaire, County Dublin.
0001 800854

Other: Publisher of academic books on Ireland

University of Hull
Dr M. E. Turner, Department of Economic Social History, University of Hull, Hull, HU6 7RX.
0482 465913

Teaching: Post-Famine Irish agriculture.

University of Warwick
Professor D. W. Urwin, Department of Politics, University of Warwick, Coventry, CV4 7AL.
0203 24011

Teaching: Irish politics (part of course on the smaller European democracies).

Research: Party system, nationalism, political development.

University of Sussex
Dr N. Vance, School of English and American Studies, University of Sussex, Falmer, Brighton, Sussex.
Tel: 606755

Research: Irish literature from the 17th century to the present day. Problems of tradition. Irish religious history.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford College
Ms K. Wales, Department of English, Royal Holloway and Bedford College, Egham Hill, Egham, Surrey, TW20 0EX.
0784 34455

Research: The language of James Joyce. In press 'Joyce and Anglo-Saxon: The "Oxen of the Sun" episode in Ulysses'. In preparation: The Language of James Joyce (Macmillan).

Queen's University Belfast
Dr B. Walker, Institute of Irish Studies, 8, Fitzwilliam Street, Belfast, BT9 6AW
0232 245133 ext. 3386

Teaching: I teach part of an Irish politics course in the Politics Department to both undergraduates and postgraduates: 'The Politics of the Republic of Ireland'. I also teach a postgraduate course: 'Pre-1920 Irish Politics and help to co-ordinate the M.A. in Irish Studies and the M.Sc. in Irish Politics.

Research: Ulster Politics, 1868-86; Irish elections, 1921-87.

University of Manchester

Ms J. L. Wallwork, Cataloguing Department, John Rylands University Library of Manchester, Oxford Road, Manchester, M13 9PP.

Research: I am reading for the degree of M.Phil. in the Department of English Language and Literature, researching aspects of the poetry of Katherine Tynan. I am also the University Library's designated subject specialist for Celtic Studies as well as having full responsibility for the library's extensive Tynan-Hinkson Collection.

Cambridgeshire College of Arts and Technology

Dr B. Walter, Cambridgeshire College of Arts and Technology, East Road, Cambridge, CB1 1PT.

Teaching: B.A./B.Sc. Honours Degree Courses in Geography. Year 1 Human Geography — sections on rural communities in Ireland; Year 3 Social Geography — sections on ethnic identity, N. Ireland.

Research: D.Phil thesis (1979), 'The geography of Irish Migration to Britain since 1939, with special reference to Luton and Bolton'. Current interests: changing patterns of Irish settlement in Britain; Irish neighbourhoods in British cities; migration of Irish women in London.

University of Warwick

Mr C. A. Ware, Centre for the Study of Social History, University of Warwick, Coventry, CV4 7AL.
0203 24011

Research: M.A. thesis, 'The Impact of the Irish Question on the British Labour Movement, 1916-1921'.

University of York

Dr A. J. Warren, History Department, University of York, Heslington, York, YO1 5DB.

Tel: York 59861

Teaching: Ireland under the Union 1800-1922. Gladstone, the Liberals and Government of Ireland 1880-1886.

Research: Anglo-Irish Relations 1850-1922.

University of Aberdeen

Dr G. J. Watson, Department of English, Kings College, University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen, AB9 2UB.

Teaching: Courses on Yeats and contemporary Irish writing.

Research: Currently writing Irish Literature Since 1800 for the Longman Literature in English series. Author of Irish Identity and the Literary Revival and many articles on Yeats, Joyce, etc..

Other: Member, Executive Committee, BAIS.

University of Stirling

Dr R. Watson, Department of English Studies, University of Stirling.
73171

Teaching: James Joyce.

Research: None primarily in Irish Studies. Modern poetry/poetics; Hugh MacDiarmid.

University of Newcastle upon Tyne

Professor J. A. Watt, Department of History, University of Newcastle upon Tyne, Newcastle upon Tyne.
0632 328511

Teaching: As part of my undergraduate courses.

Research: Indicated broadly by these books: 'The Church and the Two Nations' in Medieval Ireland, (Cambridge, 1970); 'The Church' in Medieval Ireland (The Gill History of Ireland 5, 1972); 'Ireland 1327-1399' in A New History of Ireland, Vol. 2 (OUP, 1987). Current research: late medieval Ireland.

University of Exeter

Professor J Webster, Department of Biological Sciences, Hatherly Laboratories, Prince of Wales Road, Exeter, Devon.

0392 77911

Research: Members of the Department have interests in, for example, the vegetation of the Burren and there are collaborative studies with the University Colleges of Galway and Cork on fish parasites.

Continued: Weir

University of York

Dr R. B. Weir, Department of Economics and Related Studies, University of York, Heslington, York, YO1 5DD.

0904 59861

Teaching: 'Irish Economic and Social History since 1690'. 'The Economics of the Celtic Fringe'. 'Gladstone, Liberalism and the Government of Ireland 1880-86' (taught in the department of History by Dr A. J. Warren).

Research: Industrial structure and diversification in Ireland and Scotland post-1900.

Brighton Polytechnic

Dr R. B. Wells, Humanities Department, Brighton Polytechnic, Falmer, Brighton.

Teaching: Irish history 14th - 20th century forms a major component for students majoring in history on the British Studies Degree (Hons. CNA), and a special subject on Ireland 1910-1924 is also an available option for students on this degree.

Research: Ireland in the 1790's. Migrant Irish labour in South-Eastern England in the 18th and 19th centuries.

Bradford and Ilkley Community College

Mr I. White, MacMillan Building, Bradford and Ilkley Community College, Gt Horton Rd, Bradford, W. Yorkshire, BD7 1A7.

0274 753 213

Teaching: Some Anglo-Irish literature, Yeats, Joyce, O'Casey. O'Faolain in Part I option of B.A. / B.Ed. Degree

Research: Anglo-Irish literature and Irish nationalism especially in the period 1890-1920 and particularly with reference to the work of James Joyce.

Continued: Watt

Continued: Whiteside

St. Martin's College, Lancaster

Ms M. R. Whiteside, Director, Institute of European Education, Geography Department, St. Martin's College, Lancaster.

0524 63446

Teaching: The Geography department ran field courses in N. Ireland until the beginning of the present 'troubles' in which material was used for illustrative purposes in physical geography courses on Northern Britain.

Other: Institute of European Education supplies 'Graded Language Tests' to schools in N. Ireland.

University of Wales, University College Cardiff

Dr A. Whittle, Department of Archaeology, University College, Cardiff, CF1 1XL.

Teaching: All our period courses cover or include Irish Archaeology except that on Roman Britain and the palaeolithic.

Research: The neolithic period (4000 — 2500 B.C.) including settlement, agriculture, social change.

University of Aberdeen

Professor P. Wilkinson, Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Aberdeen, Aberdeen, AB9 2UB.

0224 480241

Research: I am interested in the study of trends in modern terrorism and the democratic response including annual reappraisals of violence in Ireland and Irish policy and security issues.

North Staffordshire Polytechnic

Dr C. Williams, Department of Geography and Recreation Studies, North Staffordshire Polytechnic, Leek Road, Stoke-on-Trent.

0782 412515

Teaching: 3rd Courses on spatial and historical aspects of cultural division and cultural and national identity on the B.A. Geography.

Research: Bilingual education in Wales; geolinguistic analysis; minority groups and the state; ethnic separatism; geography of religion in the U.K. Past studies include an extensive linguistic and spatial analysis of the Gaeltacht.

Bulmershe College of Higher Education

Mr D. G. Williams, Department of English, Bulmershe College of Higher Education, Woodlands Avenue, Reading, Berkshire, RG6 1HY.

0734 663387

Teaching: We do not teach Irish Studies courses as such, although Irish writers (e.g. Joyce, Yeats, Swift and Heaney) appear on individual units within the English B.A.

Research: I am particularly interested in modern and contemporary Irish poetry, particularly the work of the Ulster poets.

University of Oxford, St. Peter's College

G. P. Williams, St. Peter's College, Oxford, OX1 2DL.

Teaching: Like many tutors, I offer students in the Final Honours School (PPE) paper, Political Sociology, the chance to write an essay on 'The Conflict in Northern Ireland'.

University of Wales

Ms H. J. Williams, University of Wales Centre for Teaching Welsh to Adults, 22 Park Place, Caerdydd, De Morgannwg, Cymru.

Research: MA Thesis 1985 'Woman in the Tales of the Ulster Cycle' (submitted in Welsh). Deals with the attitudes towards women in the Ulster Cycle and how they are portrayed in general. I am currently translating into English and revising chapters: 'Women and death in the Ulster Cycle' which deals with the 'caoine' tradition and the chapter on Goddesses of Sovereignty. Also 'Other-worldly Lovers'.

University of Manchester

Mrs P. Williams, Department of Celtic Studies, University of Manchester, Oxford Road, Manchester, M13 9PL. 061 273 3333

Research: My research interests are in bardic poetry.

Mr M. W. Williams,

3, Frinton House, Rushcroft Road, London, SW2 1JP. 01 737 7987

Research: My research interests are in late 18th to early 20th century literature (Tone to Pearse) especially Irish literature and nationalism

Lancaster University

Mr M. J. Winstanley, History Department, Furness College, University of Lancaster, Lancaster.

0524 65201

Teaching: Rural society in Britain and Ireland, 1780-1920. A 3rd year lecture and seminar course. Plans for future course on 'The Irish at home and abroad'.

Research: Author: Ireland and the Land Question, 1800-1922, (Methuen, Lancaster Pamphlet, 1984) - a short review of recent revisionist literature aimed at VIth Form and first year undergraduate level.

University of Hull

D. M. Woodward, Department of Economic and Social History, University of Hull, Cottingham Road, Hull, HU6 7RX.

0482 465726

Teaching: I teach Economic Change in Ireland, 1607-1921.

Research: My research interests are as follows: Irish trade and shipping during the 16th and 17th centuries, English labour markets 1550-1750 with special reference to Northern England. I have various publications with more to follow including work on the Irish Customs with David Dickson of Trinity College Dublin.

University of London, Royal Holloway and Bedford New College

Professor K. Worth, Department of Drama and Theatre Studies, Royal Holloway and Bedford New College, Egham Hill, Surrey, TW20 0EX.

39957.

Teaching: Two year course in Modern Drama for all undergraduates includes major Irish element. Research students working on Irish playwrights, one recently completed on Nietzsche and Yeats.

Research: Beckett the Shape Changer (ed.) (Routledge & Kegan Paul 1975); The Irish Drama of Europe (Athlone Press 1978); Oscar Wilde (Macmillan 1983). Critical Edition of W.B. Yeats 'Where There is Nothing' and, with Lady Gregory 'The Unicorn From the Stars', (Catholic University Press of America / Colin Smythe, Gerrards Cross, 1987). Adviser on Anglo-Irish material for Modern Drama (Toronto), member of the Editorial Board. Member of the Editorial Board of Yeats Annual (Macmillan). Lecture at the Yeats International Summer School at Sligo. Produced new versions of Beckett's television play, Eh Joe, and his radio plays.

University of Aberdeen

Dr C. Wright, Department of Sociology, Aberdeen University, Aberdeen, AB9 2UB.

Research: Protestants in the Republic of Ireland.

University of Birmingham

Ms. K. Ziesler, Department of History, University of Birmingham, Arts Division, P.O. Box 363, Birmingham, B15 2TT.

021 472 1301

Research: Ph. D. thesis on 'The Irish in Birmingham, 1850—1950'.

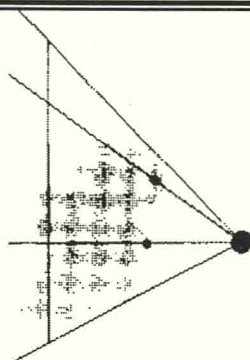

INDEX

- Abbey Theatre 15, 19
 AE (George Russell) 26
 Anglo-Irish History 1, 2.
 Anglo-Irish Literature 1, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14,
 15, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 26, 27, 28
 Drama 15, 22, 23, 24, 25, 28, 30
 Gothic Fiction 9
 Television 26
 Novel 1, 22, 24, 26, 28
 Poetry 22, 23, 24, 27, 28
 Anglo-Irish Relations 1, 2, 6, 8, 10, 14, 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, 22, 28
 Anglo-Irish War 14
 Archaeology 1, 8, 11, 13, 16, 19, 20
 Viking period 19
 Architecture 2
 Ards Peninsula 2
 Art 2
 Assimilation 26
 Astronomy 5
 Beckett, Samuel, 4, 7, 10, 11, 14, 16, 22, 23, 24, 27
 Belfast 2, 8
 Housing Patterns 15
 Boucicault, Dion, 14, 24
 Catholicism 5
 Catholicism in Britain 13
 Celtic ethnicity 17
 Celtic philology 21
 Christianity 25
 Clare 5
 Columbanus 25
 Common Agricultural Policy 1
 Communication 20
 Community development 4
 Cork 18
 Cosmology 5
 Crime 22, 27
 Criminal jurisdiction 10
 Culture, cultural Development 23
 Historiography 13
 History 23
 Politics 4, 23
 Studies 17
 Theory 13
 Curtis, Lionel 16
 Dance 8
 Davitt 8
 De Valera 8
 Derry 8
 Development 11, 21
 Economic and Social 2
 Devlin, Joseph 12
 Drama 1, 4, 6
 Dublin 4
 Protestants in 13
 Economic and social history of Ireland 1
 Economics 2
 Edmund Spenser 3
 Education 19, 20, 22
 Electoral Geography 4
 Emigration 11, 26
 English Language in Ireland 12, 20
 Eriugena (Duns Scotus) 5
 Ethnic, ethnicity 2, 17, 26
 Minorities 21
 Relations 2
 Ethnology 18
 European Communities 2
 European Community 3
 European Convention on Human Rights 3
 Extradition 10
 Famine 2, 8, 11
 Father Mathew 15
 Feminism, feminist theory 9, see also Womens' Studies
 Fenians 23
 Ferguson 14
 Fertility 5
 Fianna Fáil 2
 Fiction, in Ulster, 6
 Finance 2
 Fisheries Research 15
 Folk Dancing 22
 Folk music 7
 Folklore 18
 Food production 1
 Footwear Industry 23
 Free Presbyterian Church 11
 Friel, Brian, 4, 24, 27
 G. B. Shaw 24
 Gender 15
 Geography 1, 20
 Medical 20
 Gerald of Wales (Giraldus Cambrensis) 23
 Government 24
 Gynocriticism 14
 Health Care 20
 Heaney, Seamus, 1, 3, 4, 7, 12, 14, 22, 26, 29
 Hiberno-English 6
 Historiography 13
 Housing 18, 27
 Human Rights 17
 Humour 6
 Ideology 21, 27
 Industrial development 2
 Industrial History 7
 Industrial structure 28
 Industrialization 2
 Intellectuals 21
 International Relations 24
 Ireland
 Agriculture 1, 27
 And British Labour Movement, 1916-21 28
 And Conflict 10
 And the European Community 12
 And Scotland 7, 17, 20, 21
 17th century 25
 Economic and social history 13, 28
 And Wales 23, 26
 Anthropology 11, 14
 Archaeology 29
 Medieval 11
 Neolithic period 1, 2, 3, 4, 5
 Viking Period 16
 Churches 11
 Class 8

- Class and Religion 8
- Constitution 2
- Culture, Cultural
 - Culture 2
 - Geography 29
 - Cultural History 17
- Ecclesiastical History 12
- Ecology 28
- Economics 27
- Emigration 12
- Fisheries 28
- Foreign Policy 24
- Gaeltacht 11
- Geography 11
 - Human Geography of Ireland 4, 15
 - Historical Geography 10, 13, 15
 - Social Geography 22
 - History 6, 11, 18, 21, 28
 - 13th and 14th centuries 10
 - 17th century 7, 16
 - 18th 19th and 20th centuries 13, 22
 - 18th and 19th centuries 27
 - 19th and 20th centuries 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29
 - Bronze Age 17
 - Economic and social history 5, 7, 8, 9, 23, 27, 28, 29
 - 19th and 20th centuries 23
 - Education 9
 - Labour History 15
 - Legal History 2
 - Medieval 15, 18, 19
 - Military 14
 - Neolithic Age 17
 - Newspapers 14
 - Palaeolithic 25
 - Prehistory 8, 23
- Housing Policy in 7
- Industrial Development in 14
- Law in 3, 14
- Legal Profession in 2
- Literature 2, 9, 21, 17
 - Early Irish Literature 5
 - Poetry, 13th and 14th centuries in 10
 - see also, Anglo-Irish literature
 - History of 15, 16
 - Irish Drama 8, 9, 23, 24
- Migration 22
- Monasticism in 13
- Nationalism in, Irish Nationalism 3, 5, 10, 21, 22
- Nationalism and Socialism in 12
- Partition 1
- Planning in 15, 17
- Political Geography of 13
- Political Sociology of 29
- Political violence in 27
- Presbyterianism in 12
- Protestants Sociology of in 20th Century Ireland 30
- Radicalism and Politics in 19th Century in 27
- Religion in 8, 15
- Science 5
- Social Geography of 15
- Social Policy in 15
- Sociology of 10, 14
- Transport in 15
- Women's Movement in 13
- Irish in Britain 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 21
 - And Crime 22
 - In Birmingham 24
 - Bolton 28
 - Glasgow 25
 - Irish Women in London 28
 - Lancashire 7, 8
 - Leeds 18
 - Liverpool 14, 25
 - Luton 28
 - Salford 9
 - Wolverhampton 26
 - Scotland 1
 - Social Geography 4
 - Migrant Labour 28
- Irish in Canada 18
- Irish in the U.S.A. 1, 4
- Irish Landscape 9
- Irish Language 5, 9, 12, 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, 24, 29
 - Classical Irish 21
 - Dialectology 9
 - Gaeltacht 29
 - In Cork 1851-1911 18
 - Middle Irish 1, 10
 - Modern Irish 10, 12, 21
 - Old Irish 1, 9, 10, 21
- Irish Studies 2, 3, 9, 11, 16, 21
 - At Primary School level in Britain 9
- Irish Theatre 14, 16, 19
- Irish urban policy 4
- Irish-American literature 24
- Joyce, James 2, 6, 7, 9, 10, 11, 13, 15, 16, 22, 23, 27, 28, 29
 - Finnegans Wake 2
- Kavanagh, Patrick, 13
- Kerry 5
- Kilburn 5
- Labour History 25
- Labour Law 17
- Lady Gregory 24, 30
- Land use 2
- Law 2, 4, 10, 17, 27
 - Law reform 2
- Lexicography 21
- Linguistics 1, 9
- Literary Theory 6
- Literature, and Nationalism 29
- Local government 2
- Local history 22
- Longley 14
- MacNeice, Louis, 22, 23
- Mahon, Derek, 14
- Medicine 2
- Medieval Archaeology 6
- Migration 1, 4, 6
- Modernism 22
- Monasticism 6, 19
- Montague, John, 14
- Moore, George, 4, 8
- Muldoon, Paul, 14
- Myth, mythology 1, 9
- N. Ireland 5, 6
 - And Ireland 10
 - And Religion 12
 - Community Conflict 7
 - Contemporary Unionism 25
 - Cottage industries 21

- Economy of 2
- Ethnicity in 19
- Geography of 29
- Housing in 7
- Local Government in 7
- Local History of 21
- Marriage in 17
- Nationalism in 1, 8, 22, 27
- Politics of 10, 17
- Poverty in 7
- Public Policy in 17
- Sectarianism in 7
- Socialism in 1
- Terrorism in 29
- Textile industries in 21
- Unemployment in 7
- Nationalism, and Literature 5
- Neutrality 24
- O'Casey, Seán 2, 4, 7, 15, 19, 24, 27, 28
- O'Faolain, Seán 28
- Old Celtic 9
- Old Irish 5
- Onomastics 22
- Oral history 7
- Orange Order 25
- Ordnance Survey (19th Century) 7
- Paisley, Rev. Ian K. 11
- Palaeography 2
- Parnell, Charles Stuart, 21
- Pastorini. 5
- Kavanagh, Patrick 3
- Pearse Padraic/Patrick 29
- Philology 1, 9
- Phonetics 21
- Planning 2
- Plantations 18
- Poetry 1, 22
- Politics, political 6, 19, 20, 24
 - Crime 24
 - Geography 4, 7
 - Parties 11
 - Socialization 27
 - Sociology 11
 - Violence 2
 - In N. Ireland 1, 5
- Protectionism 23
- Paramilitarism
 - Protestant, 1
 - Provisional IRA 18
- Psychology 27
- Public policy 2
- Public Sector 2
- Roman Catholic Church 20
- RTE 2
- Race 15
- Radio Drama 2
- Regional Policy 21
- Religion 8, 22
- Royal Irish Constabulary 18
- Rural
 - Planning 18
 - Resource management 1
 - Settlement 20
- Schools' Council History Project 3
- Secondary Education 3, 4
- Secret societies 5
- Sectarianism 27
- Security policies 24
- Shaw, G. B., 19, 23, 24, 27
- Shelta 6
- Sinn Féin 17
- Social Class 5
- Social policy 4, 7, 26, 27
- social security 27
- social segregation 2
- Social Work 23
- Socialism
 - And Nationalism 1
- Sociolinguistics 6, 20
- Sociology 17, 19, 21
- Somerville, Edith CE and Ross, Violet, 26
- Song poetry 17
- Sport 7
- Stuart, Francis 14
- Stylistics 2
- Swift 22, 27, 29
- Synge, John Millington, 4, 7, 14, 15, 16, 27
- Teacher Education 7, 19, 26
- Terrorism 18, 21, 24
- Theatre Semiotics 23
- Theatre Studies 19
- Tone, Theobald Wolfe, 29
- Town planning 4, 7, 11
- Trade and shipping 29
- Trevor, William, 16
- Tynan, Katharine Hinkson, 28
- Ulster Unionism 4
 - Ulster Unionist Council 25
- Ulysses* 2
- Unemployment 21, 27
- Unionist ideology 1
- United Irishmen 5
- Vocational Education 19
- Welfare Law 26
- Wilde, Oscar 8 14, 23, 27
- Women in Ireland 2
 - And the legal system 2
- Womens Studies 13
- Yeats, William Butler, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 15, 16, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30
- Youth unemployment 23

INSTITUTE OF IRISH STUDIES

UNIVERSITY OF LIVERPOOL

A MULTI-DISCIPLINARY TEACHING AND RESEARCH INSTITUTE

The Institute promotes the scholarly study of Ireland and aspects of Britain relating to Ireland. Drawing upon a strong tradition of the study of Ireland in Liverpool University and neighbouring Colleges it embraces a wide range of disciplines including

ARCHAEOLOGY; ART HISTORY; GEOGRAPHY;
HISTORY; LAW; LITERATURE AND DRAMA;
THE NATURAL SCIENCES; PLANNING; SOCIOLOGY.

RESEARCH PROGRAMME: initially covering Celtic Art; Modern Irish Literature and Drama; Anglo-Irish relations; Northern Ireland; the Irish in Britain.

M.A. IN IRISH STUDIES: part-time, multi-disciplinary higher degree encouraging the advanced scholarly study of Modern Ireland.

Courses include 'The Personality of Modern Ireland', 'An Outcast Society? perceptions of the Irish in Britain', 'Violence in Modern Ireland', 'Modern Irish Literature', and 'Religion, Law and Politics in Modern Ireland'.

B.A. IN COMBINED HONOURS: Irish Studies pathway making up half a degree programme and providing a coherent, multi-disciplinary and comparative approach to the study of Ireland, past and present.

Courses include 'Perspectives on Ireland', 'Celtic Art', 'Modern Irish Drama', 'The History of Ireland, 1800—1923', 'The Politics of the Irish Question' and 'The Irish in Britain'.

JOINT EDUCATION PROGRAMME: devised in conjunction with the British Association for Irish Studies to raise the profile of Irish Studies in schools and colleges in Britain

The B.A. and M.A. Courses will begin in October 1988. Applications are now being accepted

For further details of the work of the Institute and the degrees available in Irish Studies, please contact

The Director,
Institute of Irish Studies,
University of Liverpool,
P.O. Box 147,
Liverpool, L69 3BX

£5.00 Stg. + P&P
$10 U.S.+ P&P

①