

To whom it may Concern.

I have known Miss Brown for the past five years. During that time I found her to be an intelligent and capable person - punctual and faithful in all her duties; trustworthy and honest in all her dealings.

Her personality is pleasing and she mixes well with other people.

I heartedly recommend her for . . . . . position and I have no doubt that she will prove worthy of any responsibility given her.

---

---

---