A Chara,

In reply to your letter of April 26th, the County Board is quite willing to accept your advt. for the Whit Monday programme. The number of copies issued is 3,000 and the usual rate is £2.10.0 per page. I am sure that a rate of £1.10.0 would be acceptable from the League. You will appreciate we must make some charge, to help us with the cost of printing.

This means that a loose leaflet will not be necessary, and in any event this is rather troublesome.

As to giving out handbills at the exits when the people are leaving, this is a matter to arrange at your own discretion. There are no objections on our part.

I should like to have copy for the advt. early next week, if possible. If you let me have it by May 10th, I will be able to send you proofs.

Mise le meas mor,

Seamus Zebann
