

April 13th 1939

Mr. J. O'Connor.

Dear Mr. O'Connor,

I rang you up today at Wimbledon 4257 quite forgetting that you had told me you were leaving that firm. How are you getting along with those people whose names I sent you? I should like to go down and see you some evening as soon as possible, so that we can have a talk about the matter. I hope that you were successful in getting in touch with some good workers.

All the best.

Yours sincerely,

Organising Secretary of the Anti-Partition of Ireland League.