

The Irishmen

An Impression of Exile

A film on video. 50 minutes long

By Seamus Ennis and Philip Donnellan which shares the life of the working Irish in Britain and celebrates their strength, skills, and their contribution to the building of this island.

Including songs and music by Joe Heaney and Ewan MacColl

This film, first made in 1965 now represents a social history of work and emigration.

.....Films with a family in Connemara and follows one of its sons on his journey to Euston.

.....Rides with the men who drive the big
.....earthmovers building a motorway

.....joins the men at work deep under Oxford Circus
.....driving tunnels that now carry thousands on the
.....Victoria Line.

£17.50 - Euro 25

from

Northampton Connolly Association

5 Woodland Avenue

Abington

Northampton NN3 2BY

Tel. 01604-715793

e-mail: pmcelt@aol.com