

12th Dec. 1938

Dear Mr. Hickey,

I was most sorry to have to miss the meeting last evening. My excellent colleague preached a lengthy sermon, and we were not out till 8.15, after which I had to get some supper.

I need not tell you how much I am in sympathy with your aims. I have some small knowledge of conditions in the Satrapy, and made a tour of Belfast in 1935 after the pogroms.

My time is very much taken up, but if there is any small way in which I can help you, I shall be only too pleased to do so.

I hope the meeting was the success it deserved to be.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

V. Rochford
