AN ISOSCELES PRODUCTION

On Our Way to Lisbon

On Our Way to Lisbon (or The Italian Job) tells the story of how, in 1967, Glasgow Celtic became the first British team to win the European Cup with victory over the mighty Inter Milan. Two fans look back and fondly recreate how the Bhoys in Green and White beat the hardest team in the world and draped Europe in green white and gold.

The whole mad and magnificent campaign comes to life as the two supporters become everything from a vicious Swiss football team to the entire population of Lisbon.

Put on those scarves, dust off your passport and come with us once again as Celtic steam-roll over the best teams in Europe to become the immortal Lisbon Lions.

'this is a two-man play with a cast of thousands ... physical theatre at its best ... hilarious slow-motion scenes ... high octane stuff and marvellously executed ... I felt the entirely enthusiastic audience could happily have stayed for more.'

MAIL ON SUNDAY

'If you loved 'Stones in his Pockets' you'll love this show too'

IRISH POST

'A sublime mix of physical theatre, conversational dialogue and hilarious impersonation - the two actors never let up the pace until the explosion of that final whistle ... excellent writing, expertly performed.'
