

May 8th. 1939

Mr. J. O'Connor,

Dear Mr. O'Connor,

Please do not think that I have been neglecting you since I saw you, but the fact is that I have been extra busy of late. I enclose a list of all the names that I can lay my hands on of people living anywhere near Wimbledon. The two or three names crossed out are no use, but I have marked with an asterisk some people whom I know would be useful. I shall write to these people myself and ask them to help us in founding a branch near Wimbledon. You might see Mr. Andrews about the other names on the list, but the most valuable help you could give me would be to tell me where we could hire a Hall or get accommodation for an inaugural meeting. I shall write to the people on the list when the meeting-place has been decided upon and invite them to attend. I might also get a fairly prominent speaker to come down and we could have bills printed and distributed at the Churches in these districts. Since supporters and sympathisers are very scattered in the Wimbledon area, I think this is the best way to tackle the question of forming a branch. I shall wait until I hear from you about the Hall. If you have any more names in these districts please let me know of them.

All the best.

Yours sincerely,

Organising Secretary
Anti-Partition of Ireland League.