Dear Sir,

Mr. J.W. Dulanty, the High Commissioner for Eire, tells me that you might be able to come down to Colchester to give an after lunch talk of about twenty minutes to the Rotary Club. With a view to forwarding international understanding the Club would like to get somebody to give a talk on "What Eire is thinking". The idea is that members would like to know what the Irish Free State is thinking with regard to relations with England and other European countries.

Do you think you could lunch with the Club on Tuesday June 13th and give a talk afterwards? We shall be very pleased if you can.

The Rotary Club makes a practice of paying the travelling expenses of speakers.

Yours faithfully,

(Ar. T. Austing)
Programme Secretary.
