

Jesus College,
Cambridge.

9th March, 1939.

Dear Sir:

I am now verifying my letter of the 7th instant. There is to be a debate on Anti-Partition at the Union on Tuesday evening, the 14th. All those people are coming to speak, Mr. Dulanty, Sir Basil Brooke and the rest; and some more not mentioned. I am having a tea-party in the afternoon, of the Hibernian Club, in my rooms at Jesus College, to meet Mr. Terry Flanagan, of Trinity College, Dublin, who is one of the Anti-Partition speakers.

I have not received the application of membership forms.
