LIVERPOOL AREA.

A Chara,

Yours of the 25th inst., to hand. I note that Dublin have advised you of our successful approach to the Irish National Foresters Benefit Society (England & Wales). It is not quite correct to say that we have secured the use of their 'offices'. What I did secure was the support and co-operation of the delegates and branch 'Officers' in the formation of branches of the league.

I note your request for list of branches of the I.N.F. and other details. I shall be only too pleased to help. I feel, however, that a personal talk would be the most satisfactory way of dealing with this and other matters that you may wish to have information about and if I had nothing special to attend to this week end, I would run down to London. The fare is reasonable. Perhaps you will let me have your views on this suggestion.

Is mise,
le meas,

Tomás Morán
