

'Phone
Chancery 8191
Ext. 28

358, First Avenue House,
High Holborn,
W.C.1

March 7th. 1939

A Havakin, Esq.,

A Chara,

I have been asked to write to you about obtaining a supply of Councillor Hugh Delargy's booklet "The Last Quarrel". So far we have been too busy building up our Organisation to devote any time to the compiling of booklets or pamphlets. We have found, however, that Councillor Delargy's booklet does most useful and effective propaganda among both Irish and English people. We should like very much to obtain a gross of these and I wonder if you could arrange it for us, the sooner the better, as our usual agent here is continually running out of them. Please have them sent to the above address with invoice.

We have high hopes of our big meeting here in London on March 28th. about which you will read soon in the press. Hoping the good work is going on well in your quarter.

Is mise le meas,

Hon. Assistant Secretary of the Anti-Partition of Ireland League.

7'